Proof Positive of the Value of "Fruit-a-Tires"

The Medicine Made From Fruit Juices

If you suffer with Rheumatism or Lumbago, you know that ordinary remedies and liniments give only temporary ease, at the best.

But "Fruit-a-Tires" rid you completely of this trouble. It not only relieves the pain and reduces the swelling, but cleanses the system of the disease.

Mr. D. McMillen of Hudson, N. Y., says: "I was so badly crippled I could not work or even dress myself. 'Fruit-a-Tires' relieved me of the Rheumatism in my back and shoulder and now I am not troubled at all." See a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 50c. ## PRINCETON BOY ON PROBATION

Student Found Guilty of Stealing from Classmates is to Pay Fines

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 16.—H. Leslie Barker, former Princeton University student, who recently pleaded guilty to theft of articles from students' rooms was fined $10 and costs on each of 18 grand larceny charges by Judge Marshall in Mercer court today. He was then released on probation.

Including the costs, the amount paid by Barker totals $607.14. The goods he admitted stealing, principally fur coats, dress suits and other articles of clothing were valued at close to $2,000. It was stated that all of the loot had been recovered.

Explaining his failure to impose a prison term, Judge Marshall said it was probable Barker had been sufficiently punished by the humiliation which he had brought upon himself. Barker was in tears as he stood beside the bar, and so was his father who accompanied the former student to the court. Barker, whose home is in Gloversville, N. Y., was a senior at the University but has been expelled. His father is a glove manufacturer. The former student is 23 years old.

High life and gay parties which resulted in an accumulation of debts are said to have prompted the former student to steal. His thieving appears to have begun last November. Well acquainted with the habits of his fellow students, it was easy for him to visit the rooms during their absence and he was not arrested for several weeks.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Mrs. Shaw Calls Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a God-Sent to Sick Women

Cambridge, Me.—"I suffered terribly with pains and soreness in my sides. Each month I had to go to bed, and the doctor told me I simply had to go under an operation before I could get help. I saw your advertisement in the paper, and I told my husband one day to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I took the third dose I felt better. I took it four times a day for two years, getting better all the time, and now for four years I don't have any pains. After taking the medicine for two years I had another child—a lovely baby girl now four years old—the life of our home. I do praise this medicine. It is a Godsend to women, who suffer with female troubles and especially for pains at the period. I have never had one, and I know that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation. Mrs. JOSEPH M. SHAW, Route No. 1, Cambridge, Me.

A country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound reports 50 out of every 100 were benefited by it.

This section of New York state has lost one of its strongest personalities and influential citizens.

Fire Originating from Fuel

There is no more prolific source of originating fire, than wood-burning stoves, wood-burners, or even stoves of loam coal.

Fires are caused by careless use of fuel, and by the use of fuel in a stove which is not properly ventilated. This frequently produces explosions from accumulated gases.

Spontaneous combustion is more to be feared from recently mined coal than from that which has been out of the mine for some time.

All this applies to storing not only coal, but also wood. Alternate wetting and drying of coal that is received wet should be avoided.

A few general suggestions and precautions for preventing fires in stoves of wood will suffice. Wood should be neatly piled up without large air spaces between the sticks, which causes fire to start.

The ground around the woodpile and in the aisles between them should be kept clear of rubbish, shavings and old newspapers. Wherever wood or coal are stored there should be easy access to hydrants and fire engines, and the house, hose and nozzle should be convenient.

New York Day by Day
By O. O. McINTYRE
(Copyright 1924, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—There is a cafe not far from Times Square where, after the fashion of Ziegfeld in glorifying the American girl, the waitress is glorified. It is a stool and counter place-up and span and serving well cooked food.

The girls who wait on patrons are hand-picked. It is the unwritten law here that no one is to tip higher than the amount they would receive in other places where tipping is permitted.

It is the custom around Christmas time for patrons to send the girls little remembrances. Each serves her regular customers from a box of candy and there is a home-like friendliness among them.

More than a dozen waitresses have married men whom they have waited. In every instance they have married well-to-do men. They have become the wives of extremely rich men. The familiarity in the place is carried on with dignity.

Patrons call them Miss and they use the term Mister. The proprietor has amassed a fortune in conducting his cafe in this manner. So much care is taken in selecting the girls behind the counter that in twelve years only two have been dismissed.

It is one of the few spots in town where the demon booze is not made inroads. All around it are wild and riotous places to laugh and drink and short-haired women, snappy Broadway and women who make certain establishments rules and practices developed because of the labor nature, and it is not to be pleased.

A government that crushes and humiliates in the individual his ambition in the individual cannot progress. A government that encourages initiative with its reward for energy will progress.

London, having wrecked Russia and a similar policy in England would wreck that nation.

Neither labor nor capital can be dictators to the extent of crushing individual activity, without bringing about its own downfall.

I love to be a salesman, a salesman, I love to be a business builder, too. I do so, too.

His dream was shattered in the reality of the bankster's cool and those who bought the stock found nothing but worthless paper but they still believe in Jimmy, and the million-dollar sum. His was the engaging personality that instilled confidence and holds it.

It is in New York City that these break types and their like. They come and go almost every few months. When the bubble bursts they believe in "The Investor."

The first time I met Jimmy he was passing up and down in a light-colored Forty Sixth street. The play dramatist Jimmy and his idea had opened a front. The crowd laughed. Jimmy had frizzled away a huge sum. He kept repeating: "It's going to be a hit, it's going to be a hit!"

THERE is something rather bawdily unfair in my observation of Jimmy Elliott's career. After all he has been looking back over the years I do not recall a single pessimist who is a success. So perhaps it is not quite the sporting thing to discount cheer even though it may sound worldly wise and smart.

THERE COMES to mind a man I knew who was in an obscure position in a Jersey factory. He bubbled with enthusiasm. All though his outlook to all appearances was drab, he had the idea of a convulsive factory. That was six years ago and today he has not only it, but he has gobbled up the factory for which he once worked.

ILLUSTRATION creates most unusual fantasies these days. They found a sobbing fellow in front of a Park avenue club the other morning complaining bitterly over the loss of a pet clam. He said he had become attached to it at a dinner party.

THERE is a banker in Wall Street who has three divorces. He is not the only one. There are no other divorces on the wall. He says despite his unhappy experience he is not at yet free from the call of matrimony and he wants the constant reminders before him at all times.

DIVORCE STATISTICS reach their high peak in New York. What is the cause of the divorce? The divorce is in the district on Fifth, Park and Madison avenue residential sections. The divorce is among the homes of the very rich. And there is an exclusive hotel near the Plaza where it was found that the divorce is in the district of the very rich. It has been divorced. It is known as Alimony Hall.

Will Stay in Race if Only to Hold Progressives Together

Political Correspondent of the Evening Leader

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The extraordinary maneuvers by which William Gibbs McAdoo has placed himself in the hands of his friends and supporters who are candidates for the Democratic nomination for the presidency will end in a decision to support him.

One reason is that the withdrawal of McAdoo would leave in the air all the support which he has been able to build up. It would leave in the air all the support which he has been able to build up. It would leave in the air all the support which he has been able to build up.

McAdoo was ready. It was said to withdraw his name from the race when his advisers indicated that the question was one of the McAdoo supporters to decide. They loaded her two daughters and their husbands in her motor car and drove them to Southern California. From Southern California, Mrs. McAdoo drove alone, camping at night to visit a sick brother in Texas, then to Oklahoma, where she was welcomed, Jack to Kansas City to see the President, and from there to Colorado where she finished. Pinkie With her car and their tour of Yellowstone Park on her way home. Mrs. McAdoo accomplished all this with no more than four punctures and being part of one day grinding valves. What would a nineteenth century man or woman have thought of such going on?

DR. W. E. KATHERINE LUDINGTON, League of Women Voters—Women's attitude in politics is the American and men's economic progress. If the question of a new school house comes up, the women consider it from the angle of the child. It is the effect upon the health of the children, while a man thinks first of financing the project.

GRACE LI, Wellesley Freshman, daughter of the President of China—We Americans, I can not tell you, apart, you look so much alike. I saluted to the girls, and said, "Hello, girls. When I think I am right I am wrong. I know how to be a man in a woman's dress. I think I am very high indeed, and he is what you call a cop. I saluted to you, and think she is the president. I don't know how to be a man. You look so much alike, what is a little Chinese girl to do?"

JOHN GURNETT IS ENDORSED

Named by Ties Democrats as Delegate to State Convention

OWEGO, Feb. 15.—Former Assemblyman John W. Gurnett of Watkins was endorsed as one of the two delegates from the 35th Congressional district to the national Democratic convention to be held in New York city in June. A meeting of the Ties Democratic committee held here this afternoon. Chairman C. G. Gurnett presided.

Mr. Gurnett has been endorsed in the committee of Ties Democrats from Ties counties and it is said that Tompkins county is favorable to his candidacy. Edward G. Dorn of Elmira has been endorsed by the Chemung County Democratic committee and it has been stated that, as he is acceptable to the other counties in the district, he will be unopposed.

A decision will be reached at a meeting of members of the Southern Tier Democratic Association to be held in Elmira Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The decision must be approved at the primaries to be held Tuesday April 2.

SOFT DRINK ORDINANCE DISCUSSED FOR NORWICH

NORWICH, Feb. 15.—The Norwich aldermen are considering the adoption of an ordinance similar to the one that may soon become effective in Binghamton to restrict and regulate the soft drink trade. A copy of the Binghamton measure was read at the common council meeting by City Attorney James S. Stanger, who was favorably discussed. No formal action taken.

W. A. Holley, Chef, in Hospital and Porter and Brakeman Seriously Cut This Morning

SALAMANCA, Feb. 15.—One man is in a hospital and two others are slightly injured as the result of a rear end collision on the Erie railroad in the Salamanca yards at 5:15 o'clock this morning.

The southeast corner tier press ran into the rear end of a freight train just inside of the western yard limits. The passenger train kept in the rails but dived three of the freight cars before it was brought to a stop.

W. A. Holley, New York City chef on the dining, was taken to a Salamanca hospital. His injuries were not believed serious. The other two injured were a porter and a brakeman seriously cut and bruised.

Three cars on the rear of the freight train were smashed. One caught fire. The Salamanca fire department prevented the flames spreading to the rest of the train. The southern tier express is made up in two sections, one in

Double Handed Calf Born Recently Big Curiosity

HEUBERT, Feb. 15.—A two-headed calf born on the Heubert farm here was the subject of several hundred persons here as it is one of the strangest sights witnessed in this vicinity in many years. The calf has two perfect heads which grow out of the same neck. It has two mouths, two sets of teeth, two tongues, four eyes, with two ears. The calf sucks with both mouths and is in vigorous health. It is the only calf of twins, both females and is an exhibition at the Heubert farm, where it may be seen any day. In spite of its freakish build, the calf appears to be normal and every respect except for its double head.

BATH ROTARY CLUB MEETING

Miss Helen Smith of State Charities Aid Speaker at Luncheon Yesterday

BATH, Feb. 15.—The weekly meeting of the Bath Rotary Club was held yesterday at noon, when the speaker was Miss Helen Smith of the State Charities Aid.

Miss Smith gave an interesting address on the subject of "The State Charities Aid." She discussed the work of the state charities aid and the need for more funds to support the work.

Following the dinner, Clarence C. Smith, Jr., of Bath, presented a report on the work of the Bath Rotary Club during the past year. He reported a successful year for the club.

The meeting was held in the Bath Hotel. The speaker, Miss Helen Smith, was assisted by the club members. The meeting was well attended.

AUTO CLUB SECURES 55 MEMBERS AT BIG MEETING AT AVOGA

Expect to Sign Up at Least 100, Before
Gives Delightful Entertainment
Drive is Over; Auto Club Circus

Fifty-five members with a promise of enough more to make at least 100 were secured by the officers of the Corning Auto Club in their second out-of-town meeting held last evening at Avoga. Upwards of 30 Corning men accompanied the delegation last evening and reported a most enthusiastic meeting. This is the first time that the club's organization has secured any members from a district so far from Corning and the directors are much pleased with the result.

Win C. Sleight who gave the principal address at the meeting advanced a plan for popularizing the Springwater route between Avoga and Avoca and the automobile owners of Avoga and vicinity announced that they were more than anxious to take part in this movement. Mr. Sleight pointed out that this stretch of 75 miles which passed through 18 communities, was as interesting from a historical standpoint as the Susquehanna trail and with a little effort could be made just as popular. With Corning as the junction of both the Susquehanna trail and the Liberty Route, the promotion of the Springwater route would divert at least 1,000 automobiles a day during the summer season for the shortest route.

NO MEETING HELD TODAY

Postpone Session to Inquire Into Complaint Made Against Police

Because of conflicting business engagements, it was impossible to hold the conference of Erie and city police officials with the Mayor and police commission this afternoon.

Mayor Hallahan stated that some of those asked to appear before the commission would be unable to attend this afternoon and for that reason the session was postponed until some later date when all can attend.

It is planned to have a joint meeting between the local police heads and the Erie railroad officials who entered complaints against the police charging inefficiency and lack of cooperation.

COMPILES NEW READING LIST

Library has Books Supplemental to Lectures of Mrs. W. J. Wilson

Of considerable interest to the women of Corning who have been attending Mrs. W. J. Wilson's lectures on child discipline, will be the list of books which has just been compiled by Miss Mary McCabe, as suggestions for parents' reading as supplementary to the lecture series.

This list of books on psychology and kindred subjects includes several new works and a number of volumes that have been on the shelves for a time. It is not a complete list of the library's collection on this topic, but gives the titles of some of the more important works.

G. Stanley Hall's "Adolescence," which is "ranked as an authoritative treatment of the psychology of adolescence is quoted frequently by Mrs. Wilson. Both volumes may be obtained at the library.

Other numbers are "New Psychology and the Parent," by H. Crichton Miller, a book that affords an excellent introduction to an understanding of the new psychology and its application to the training of children, while that is less technical than Hall's work and is recommended by the New York State Library as one of the best of the new psychology books. "New Psychology and the Teacher," by the same author is similar to "New Psychology and the Parent," with chapters on many subjects treated in psycho-analysis including the dream symbolism, the herd instinct and the "What's Wrong with Our Girls?" by Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robinson.

HORNELL KNIGHTS PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR NEW HOME

HORNELL, Feb. 16.—The members of the Hornell Knights of Columbus have voted to accept the recommendations of a special committee named recently to investigate the purchase of a home and as soon as $25,000 can be raised the James E. Schwarzenbach residence will be purchased. The campaign raise funds is already under way.

The house is at Elm and Center street, is three stories high, of brick construction and modern in every respect. The ground floor is particularly well adapted for club room purposes and it will be an easy matter to convert the second floor into a lodge room.

BUFFALO—In the act of greeting a friend in front of No. 125 Genesee street, Henry Schick, 65 years old, collapsed on the sidewalk and died before aid could be given.

DANVILLE—Raymond Redder, saw a building there and now thinks that there will be an early spring.

WEDNESDAY COW GORES HIM

PHILIPS, Feb. 15.—Fred Hallock, farmer, residing north of Phelps is undergoing treatment at the Clifton Springs sanitarium for severe facial injuries received several days ago when he was attacked by a cow while feeding his herd.

With an upward swing of its head, the animal's head caught Hallock, while he was in a stooping position, on the lower side of the right jaw with sufficient force to tear a deep gash in the flesh and knock out four of his teeth.

FOUR WEEKS' NEWS FROM MEAKER'S

Business Institute Notes and Comment of Interest in Corning and Vicinity

Weekend Students Will Visit New York Telephone Office and Observe Switchboard Operation

The committee for the Alumni party, composed of Helys M. Smith, Esther Patterson, Adria Drake, Fred Martin, and Edwin Wilson, are pulling hard for the cause. The date is February 19. They have engaged the L. O. O. F. hall at the corner of Madison street and Church street for the evening of the festivities and a large orchestra to supply the required music from nine until two bells after midnight. "We'll have a good time," says one of the committee. "Remember the date—February 19."

We are in receipt of the announcement of the marriage of February 9 of Miss Lila E. Partidge of Avoca, N. Y., to Dr. C. W. Wagner. Mrs. Wagner graduated from the Institute in 1923 and occupied a good position with one of Elmira's large manufacturing concerns. The management of the Institute extends congratulations and best wishes.

Miss Mildred Steenberg of Spencer, N. Y., who was with us in 1917, has returned to the Institute for review and advanced work. We are pleased to have Miss Steenberg with us again.

Mr. J. Demarest Berry of Bloomsburg, Penna., who has been attending the Institute for some time, is now at the State Hospital at Bloomsburg, recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Harold Clark of Galeton, Pa., who recently completed his course in the Institute and who has been on an extended trip through the Central States, writes that he has visited almost all the great cities of the world as well as M. B. I. No place like home, Harold.

Mr. William Sullivan of Canastota, Penna., now with the Citizens National Bank of Towanda, Penna., visited the Institute Tuesday. Mr. Sullivan was with us about four years ago. He was pleased to note many changes in the Institute for the betterment of the course. William stated that his training while in the Institute had been of great value to him when he left the Institute to enter the business world. He was prepared in idea of keeping in touch with the Institute is splendid. We intend to extend an invitation to all our former students to visit the Institute.

Mr. George Taylor, local manager of the New York Telephone Company, has invited the students of Meaker's Business Institute to visit the telephone offices in this city and observe the switchboard in operation. We believe that this is an excellent opportunity for the students to visit the exchange in groups of two, beginning Monday.

The new victoria records for Typewriting speed and rhythm have been received and are now in use in the department. The February entrance class is making splendid progress by the use of these records. The records are made under the direction of Rupert Solis of the Gregg Publishing Company, New York City, and are especially for Typewriting work. Wednesday a business man of Elmira called at the Institute seeking an office assistant, and inquired why he had a vicarious running during school hours. When we explained that rhythm was acquired by music, he commended the work of the Institute. He is a very successful man in the business world. The Institute has received the highest of the latest modern model, C. Smith Typewriters. These will be placed in the Department during the next few days. Students entering school at this time will receive their training on these new machines. The equipment of the Institute is modern and up-to-date.

GERMAN PEOPLE ARE GRATEFUL FOR AID OF CORNING FOLK

H. F. Eilers Receives Letter of Thanks From Alfred Paul, Express- ing Thanks

H. F. Eilers, mechanical engineer from the charity that we can arrange for, but for which our resources are very limited. We have about 40,000 persons looking to our organizations for assistance and help, so it is very little that can be done for each under present conditions.

"We would like to thank Mr. H. Keller and the good people of Corning who have helped him send to him money and we can assure you that many a half broken heart prayed with tears in their eyes for this help. Should anyone care to help further, old clothing, shoes or food would be much appreciated and when received here would be distributed among the most unfortunate who have no one to care for them in these trying times."

"Our thanks go out to those who so kindly thought of their fellow-being in their hour of trial and we hope that we might again hear from them. Thanking all in the name of the many, I am extremely proud, Alfred Paul, chairman of the Kythausen Society of Welfare for Orphans and Widows in Germany."

The letter from Mr. Paul is of further interest to Corningites since Mrs. Frank Locknor and Kaubach of this city. Many persons have been privately sending funds to destitute relatives in Germany and if there is anyone in the city who wishes to contribute to the welfare work that is being carried on among the poor in Germany, they should write to Alfred Paul in Dresden.

CLARK FACES OLD CHARGE OF MEETING

William Clark Held for Non-Support on Complaint of His Wife

William Clark, of Corning, was arrested in Owego Thursday on a probation warrant on a charge of abandonment of his wife and children, and is now lodged in the Bath jail awaiting arraignment. William Clark was put on probation some time ago but had failed to report to the probation officer and was rearrested on complaint of his wife, Mrs. Minnie Clark.

It is said that Clark was located in Owego through a complaint from an officer of Tompkins county to the effect that a man named Will Smith and a girl, Florence White, 15 years of age, had gone to Owego where they were living together. An investigation resulted in finding Clark and his arrest followed.

Welcome on the Mat?
The same issue of a Cleveland newspaper that tells of the coming of the Republican National Convention next June also contains a news item about Cleveland's new million dollar jail.

In anticipation of some definite disposal of Mission Shoals an army of 4,600 men erect steel skeletons of the shoals with steel and concrete. They are finishing Wilson Dam. It's costing the Government $50,000,000.

ADJOURN ALL LIQUOR CASES

One Defendant Asks Name of Person Who Signed the Affidavit

J. S. Commissioner Hubbard held hearings in six liquor cases this morning but all were adjourned because the names of attorneys for the defendants. All but one were Corning.

John Krzyzewski, of West Erie Avenue, was one of the defendants. His place was raided about a week ago when the Federal officers seized five barrels of wine together with a small quantity of alcohol—moonshine.

Fred Anderson and William Frank Moker are charged with possession, following raids made on their place about two weeks ago.

Ernest Joseph of East Erie Avenue, who is charged with possession. The Federal men raided his place last Tuesday and secured a quantity of hard cider, some beer and allowed whiskey.

The case of Gerald Sweeney, of Hornell who was arrested about three weeks ago after the Hornell police had seized a truck load of beer which he was driving. All were for dismissal on various grounds. One motion to adjourn today requests the Federal government to produce the name of the person who signed the affidavit which information the raid was made.

CORNING GIRLS ARE WITNESSES

Members of Chorus Testify in Murder Trial of Joseph Diamond

Testimony of Joyce Normand and Dorothy Bates, the two chorus girls with "The Lady in Ermine" company who gave their home at 111 Madison street, New York, played an important part in the conviction of Joseph Diamond, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree last evening, for his part in the murder of William H. McLaughlin and William S. Barlow last November. Mrs. Diamond, Joseph's brother, was convicted for the same crime last week.

The two girls were important witnesses at the preliminary examination last November. Miss Normand in her testimony on the stand Friday said that she had met Joseph Diamond and his brother in Philadelphia three days after the murder, and that both she and Miss Bates had been entertained by the Diamond brothers at the Hotel Lorraine roof garden. She said that Diamond had proposed to her and had boasted that he was wanted as a hold-up man by the New York police.

Miss Normand told the attorney for the defense that she had lost her job with "The Lady in Ermine" because of the notoriety resulting from her connection with the case and had gone with another production which she left a week ago in New Orleans to appear in court in New York. Although she gave damaging evidence against Diamond at the examination in November her testimony during the trial yesterday failed to bring out certain assertions she was said to have made at the earlier date and a number of times during her testimony she insisted that she could not recall certain matters. She gave her age as 20 and her home as Corning during the preliminary proceedings of the district attorney.

Only the Traffic
Transmission
absolutely eliminates all the evils of shifting gears. Only the Chandler has it!

THE instant popularity of the Traffic Transmission is largely due to the fact that anyone can use it perfectly on the first attempt. It operates without the use of buttons or levers. There is nothing new to learn. Yet all speed changes—whether on steep hills or in heavy traffic—are made instantly and without clashing. Chandler is powered by the masterful Pikes Peak Motor.
