BERLIN, April 12.—(By A. P.)—Dr. Edmund Hino Stinnes, who by the death of his father, has suddenly become the monarch of industrial and commercial enterprises, is described by his associates as "a force of engaging personality and winning character."

Although only 28 years old, he served a rigorous and technical and commercial apprenticeship in the engineering and metallurgical and subsequently was graduated from the Charité-Berlin technical university with the degree Doctor of Engineering. He is also a volunteer in the World War and advanced to a lieutenant in the aviation corps.

Young Stinnes was constantly at his father's side during the war's restless and manifold activities. He possessed of first hand knowledge of the mining, smelting and industrial branches of the Stinnes enterprises.

His brother, Hugo Hermann Stinnes, who is now president and present director of the family's shipping interests at Hamburg, is also a well known apprentice at home and abroad.

He is married and has two children.

Stinnes senior made a practice of taking his grown up sons and daughters into his confidence, appraising them of important negotiations and allowing them to take over his contracts, balance sheet and other documents, as part of their business education.

For this reason the Stinnes family has been described as "a school of directors in constant session." Hugo Stinnes stimulated criticism and suggestion from his sons and daughters, and some member of the family conducted.

"The Stinnes girls taught business along with discipline every day of their family, who continued to amusement over the "Yankee horse" exhibited by the same manager member of the Stinnes set."

FRENCH MORE OPTIMISTIC

Comment Today in Paris on Dawes Plan Reveals Groping Approval

PARIS, April 12.—The editorial comment this morning on the editorial commission's quick approval of the experts' report is decidedly optimistic.

While several describe the decision as a "step in the right direction," others are more guarded, saying that the fixing of the date for hearing the German plan for Thursday gives the allied governments time to consider the merits of the plan in principle on the correct questions of inter-allied debt and security.

Only the Nationalistic organ, "Le Journal," is more pessimistic. Echo De Paris, declares M. Herriot, French member and president of the commission, would report must be completed before a definite system of supervision and control can be put in place. "If, as one is entitled to fear, money breaks her new promise."

Elaboration of the system of supervision and control can be accomplished by the reparations commission, while that of penalties for non-compliance with the terms. Both, he says, will find their path least with difficulties.

Chairman of Senate Finance Committee Says Lighter Burden Can Aid All

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The Revenue bill as framed by the Senate Finance Committee has $225,000,000 of tax relief, the treasury surplus available for reduction. Chairman Smoot estimated today in the committee report on the bill presented formally to the Senate.

"This 'apparent deficit for the next fiscal year will be wiped out," Mr. Smoot predicted, "by improvement in business conditions expected to result from placing 'lighter taxes on an economically sound basis."

The bill is to be taken up for consideration on Wednesday, a minority report, carrying the views of the Democratic members of the committee, will be presented Monday.

The committee bill, provides for a net reduction in annual revenue in comparison with the present law of $47,720,000 as against an estimated deficit of $14,000,000 under the measure as it passed the House.

The provision for a 25 per cent reduction in the income taxes of the top 1 per cent of the taxpayers $232,750,000, the report estimated.

Mr. Smoot detailed the many changes made in the technical administrative provisions as well as the tax rate schedule.

Provision for increasing revenue collection under the present law are made by three changes—through the new taxes and Mah Jongg would bring in $1,000,000 annually.

The ten per cent tax on radio, the tax on the sale of 100,000,000 revenue annually, it is estimated, while the ten per cent tax on Mah Jongg would bring in $1,000,000 annually.

Increasing the corporation tax of 12 to 15 per cent would bring in $104,000,000 additional revenue, the report held, while elimination of the special corporation stock tax would cut off $85,000,000.

The bill would also increase the tax on the sale of automobiles, and make a "minor" contribution of the burden of taxation.

The net reduction in normal taxes under the present law would amount to $20,000,000 and in surtaxes to $200,000,000. The House bill would provide for a $130,000,000 slash in normal taxes and for only $150,000,000 in surtaxes.

Californian Not so Certain of His Popularity on Face of Returns

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The return of Senator Hiram Johnson from his California campaign, which he had been expected to announce today, was not so certain of his popularity on the face of the returns.

Senator Johnson denied knowledge of the impending conference when his attention was called to reports that it was to be held, and made no definite prediction of his own. "I know nothing about it," he said, "but I am sure that I might soon withdraw from an active campaign. Failure of the campaign methods thus far pursued to get the desired number of delegates in the west and middle states, however, has obliged me to appoint some of his supporters and they are expected to suggest various changes."

—that the farmer may prosper and the nation progress These are the words of three farmers: 1—"My wife was a city girl. She is a talented musician and holds a position in a church quartet. Though our home is on the farm she goes to town whenever she chooses and has kept up all her church activities and other interests. How does she do this? Simply by means of her Chevrolet. "Her city friends told her she would have a lonesome life in the country, but they tell her now that she is far better off than they are. She has Nature all around her, and can still enjoy the city." 2—"It is a day's work for a team of horses to go to the village and back. With my Oldsmobile I make the round trip in less than three hours. If we could not have our Oldsmobile any more, it would be like having no sunshine in our lives." 3—"Our Chevrolet and our electric power plant have revolutionized our lives in the past few years. With our Chevrolet we can save to town often and in less time; and the power plant has given us the convenience of electric lights and many labor-saving devices."

Every President of the United States, with two exceptions, was born in a village or on a farm. Sons of farmers have exercised leadership in every phase of our national life. And this will always be the case, for men who work alone have time to think, and their thinking is their own.

Hence the contribution of the automotive industry to the farmer is perhaps the most important of all its contributions; for unless he prospers, the nation cannot prosper. His are crops of the spirit as well as of the soil; not only food but leadership; not only produce but men.

4 1/2 YEAR OLD BOY IS CRUSHED TO DEATH UNDERNEATH TRUCK

Verle, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Phineas Tuttle Jumps on Machine Unbeknownst to James Dates, Driver, Then Falls On

Verle, the four and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Phineas Tuttle, of 211 Woodview Avenue, was instantly killed about 11:30 this morning when the child fell from a truck on which he was riding and one of the wheels of the vehicle passed over his body.

The truck which ran over the child was owned and driven by James Dates, 34, of 202 1/2 Beach Street, but the driver is exonerated from all blame in the accident of about five miles an hour and when just north of the intersection of Woodview Avenue the child unknown to Mr. Dates ran from the sidewalk and jumped on the side of the one ton truck. In some manner the little boy lost his hold and fell to the ground under the machine and the right rear wheel passed directly over

Proper Window and Store Lighting

Efficient Aid to Business

More and more proper window display and lighting are coming to be recognized as necessary mediums of advertising, the same as newspaper, magazine and other forms of advertising. It is an efficient aid to business and as such is entitled to much consideration.

The Edison Mazda Lamp organization, through the General Electric and subsidiary corporations, has been spending a great deal of time and money in an effort to provide retail merchants with the newest ideas in proper lighting; to bring this type of advertising to the attention of merchants who have never realized its possibilities, and to others who have used their windows and their display cases more for places to put things in than to arrange them so that light would help make sales.

The show window is the point of purchase. The desire to own the article displayed is crystallized if it is shown to advantage, and will result in the sale.

No other one thing has so much to do with the final result as lighting. If the lighting is properly arranged; if each lamp is selected to perform the particular work for which it is best suited; if the final result in the display corresponds with the price appearance of the article displayed—then show window and store lighting will become the advertising force it should be—a direct factor in the general field of advertising.

A phone call to No. 2 will bring a lighting expert to your store who will be glad to make a careful investigation of your store's possibilities; its needs; the lighting arrangement that will prove most effective to your business.

SIGN 78 MEMBERS AT ADDISON MEETING OF CORNING AUTO CLUB

Expect Total to be Raised to 200 in Village; Auto Club Circus Gives Unusually Good Entertainment

Seventy-eight members were added to the Corning Auto Club membership last evening when a meeting was held in Addison and a branch of the Corning organization formed in that village. The meeting which was held in the Addison town hall was attended by upwards of 500, over 100 being present from Corning. Autoists from Woodhall, Troupsburg, Jasper, Cameron Mills, Bathbun, and Elkland, Pa., were present at the meeting and there were some from each of these towns who recently joined the club for the first time.

This year is the first that Addison motorists have affiliated with the Corning Auto Club as a body, as they have had an independent organization there in the past known as the Southern Tier Auto Club. At the meeting last evening the main speaker was Win C. Sleight, secretary of the Corning organization who in a most convincing talk pointed out the advantage of being affiliated with an automobile club of a large membership such as the Corning Auto Club possesses. Mr. Sleight also told briefly some of the aggressive and constructive measures of the organization pointing out how the influence of the organization had effected automobile legislation. Following Mr. Sleight's talk some time was taken up with signing members and 78 were secured in short time, nearly every automobile owner at the meeting signing one of the membership cards. Assurance was given at the meeting that Addison would have membership for their branch of at least 200.

who has been active for several years with auto club matters in Addison presided at the meeting. Following the various talks, a membership committee consisting of Alfred Chaffield, Walter M. Goff and Mr. Crane was appointed and plans were made for a special meeting to be held next week at which time an intensive campaign will be started in that village.

The auto Club Circus was at its best last evening and the various acts were most favorably received by the large crowd in attendance. The safety first motion picture of the crossing accident staged in Corning last February was shown in connection with the circus and during the showing of the reel Bert Morse, president of the Corning Club, explained how the foolish and careless driver was the cause of a large percentage of the crossing accidents. The Winge & Botwick quartet gave a program in addition to the regular circus, and the large audience was exceptionally well pleased with this part of the entertainment.

BATH MAN IS BEING HELD

Charles M. Dean Charged with Serious Offense by Corning Girls

As a result of the cleanup campaign started in Corning several weeks ago by both local and county officials, Charles M. Dean, of Bath, was arraigned at a special term of County Court in Bath this morning charged with an offense of a statutory nature, against a young Corning girl. The indictment against Mr. Dean was returned by the grand jury which was in session here the first of the week in connection with the opening of the April term of Supreme Court.

When arraigned this morning Dean pleaded not guilty and bail in his case was fixed at $2,000. The alleged crime with which the defendant is charged, is said to have been committed in Corning on February 26 at the residence of Mrs. Lulu Holiday of East Market street. Information on which the indictment was returned was obtained from affidavits made by the prosecuting girls, both under 16 years old.

There were eight other defendants named in the indictment. When we found this week, who were arraigned this morning before Judge Justice, were Frank J. Frank, of the Bath Soldiers' Home, charged with reckless driving following an accident in which a young girl was killed. Franklin pleaded guilty to the charge of reckless driving and was fined $100 which he paid.

John Nastrovsky, of Corning, was disposed of in Detroit, pleaded guilty and was fined $150. The youth was also placed on probation for a term of two years to report weekly to the probation officer.

Leuben B. Lucker, of Hornell, an Erie Railroad employee, who was arrested about two weeks ago charged with forging two pay checks at the Erie station in Hornell, pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny, second degree. He was fined $250 and it was ordered that he be required to serve one day in jail for each dollar of the fine.

Paul John Valley, of Hornell, who was also implicated in the deal with the Lucker, pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of petit larceny was placed on probation for one year. It was alleged that these two men forged time slips and secured money which they later divided.

George Edwards, of Bath, who was arrested about three weeks ago charged with passing counterfeit checks at the Corning Jewelry Company store, here, was indicted for grand larceny, second degree, and when arraigned this morning pleaded guilty to the charge and was fixed at $2,000. It is claimed that Edwards passed two checks as a result of an agreement which was purchased from the Corning store when the checks were presented to the Bath bank and returned marked "no funds."

John Retallo, of Hornell, pleaded guilty this morning to a charge of grand larceny, second degree, and was sentenced to six months in the Bath jail. Retallo, it is charged, passed some worthless checks in Hornell.

Lewis Taylor, of Hornell, indicted on a charge of violating his parole, pleaded guilty and was placed on custody. His term of probation being extended for five years. When first arrested Taylor was placed on probation after pleading guilty to a charge of abandoning his family. Judge Brown made a provision to the probation this morning that Taylor should be in the family.

William Tiffany, of Hornell, who has been in the county jail for several weeks after being turned over to Sheriff Kellogg, for violating the provisions of his parole, was released from custody this morning on promise of Judge Judge Brown. The man was indicted for violating the terms of his parole and pleaded guilty. His probation will be continued and he will be required to report weekly to the probation officer.

The Power of Apparel

"Every man knows how different he feels after he has donned his best suit and is thoroughly groomed in every detail. Smart clothes make him feel smart. He is a new person, a new being. He not only thinks more of himself, but his bearing is more dignified and he feels a certain sense of increased power, of mastery which he could not feel when he was conscious that there was something wrong with his appearance."

"There is no one strong enough or powerful enough utterly to ignore the influence of dress both on himself and the world in which he lives."
