DEATH LIST OF CHICAGO FIRE GROWS LARGER

Eight Firemen, One Laborer, Now Dead and Others Probably Fatally Hurt

CHICAGO, Apr. 19.—Samuel Moore and Leo Unell, owners of a sporting and novelty concern, were in custody today for questioning in connection with the fire in which eight firemen and one civilian had their lives lost last night.

Samuel Polinsky, said to have had insurance dealings with Moore and Unell, was declared by the police to have had insurance policies aggregating $32,000, issued to Moore and Unell, in his personal name.

Police and firemen, who were questioned and held, and Adolph Friedman are held as witnesses in the case.

CHICAGO, Apr. 19.—Eight firemen and William Behr, a laborer, were killed, and a score of persons, including two women, injured, some probably fatally, last night when a wall of a burning four-story factory collapsed after an explosion.

The firemen were trapped on the third floor, where they were on ladders against it or on a fire escape, when the wall fell, blowing fire. Tons of masonry swept down so suddenly that it could not be seen falling. Burning stones and bricks injured several.

Police and firemen, aided by volunteer rescuers dug frantically in the smoldering ruins all night, searching for bodies. It was not until one man of truck company 154, in response to the alarm, had been in a hospital or morgue or reported missing.

An inquiry to determine the cause of the rapidity of the fire's spread, and the explosion was begun by the coroner and the chief of police. Stories that quantities of dynamite had been stored in the building and that dissatisfaction existed in the neighborhood, because the factory had been leased recently to a negro church, were the main points of investigation.

The building known as Curran Healey had been a ghetto landmark fifty years. It had been lapping at the upper stories for an hour before the explosion and a score of fire companies were working to prevent the spread of flames. It was thickly populated.

The names of the men who were killed were: Captain John F. Borch, Michael Devay, Frank Borch, Frank Leavy, Samuel Warren, Edward Kretzing and Jeremiah DeLoach. The casualties were the greatest since the stockyards fire of 1904, when twenty-nine men were killed.

The damage, estimated at $2,000,000, was done by the fire which burned for the day. Earlier three Armour and company warehouses were nearly destroyed.

FEDERAL OFFICERS AT WASHINGTON ARE STIRRED TO ACTION

Rev. L. E. H. Smith Accompanied Agents on Raid of Drug Store Yesterday Afternoon

REDFORD, Apr. 19.—United States authorities today took up the trail of bombers who wrecked the home of the Rev. L. E. H. Smith in Black Rock, N. Y. Smith is expected to testify for the government against alleged liquor law violators arrested in raids in which the minister had aided in the collection of evidence. Charges of attempting to intimidate a Federal witness would be pressed, the Federal authorities said.

United States District Attorney William Donovan, who was out of the city when the bombing occurred, telegraphed from Concord, N. H., that he was returning immediately to take personal charge of the Federal investigation. The Department of Justice at Washington had been requested, Colonel Donovan's message said, to send additional Federal agents to Buffalo to aid in the bomb investigation.

The Rev. Mr. Smith accompanied a special investigator of the Buffalo County of churches and assistant to the chief of police, in a car to the capacity of dry crusader, and several Federal prohibition agents on a raid of a drug store in Buffalo street yesterday afternoon, a short distance from the Ontario Hotel, where the Rev. Smith is pastor. It was alleged that threats against the pastor's life had been overheard in the store of Mayes.

John Sapienza, brother of the proprietor, and Leonard Hammer, a clerk, were arrested and several bottles of alleged liquor were seized. Sapienza and Hammer were to be questioned by Federal authorities regarding the bombing.

The pastor told reporters that he had received many threatening letters within the past few weeks, sometimes as many as ten a day. Two of them, he said, have been turned over to the police.

One of the letters, Smith said, had set April 12 as his last day on earth. The Smith family, consisting of the Rev. and Mrs. Smith and three small children, deserted their home in Gallatin avenue and fled to the homes of neighbors. On the night of April 13, two of the minister's church members stood in front of the home with shotguns, it was said.

Neighbors told the police of having seen a man run from the front of the home a short time before the blast, and of a gray automobile standing at the corner of the bomb—a section of fans which had disappeared after the explosion. Two small fragments of the bomb—a piece of metal—and a small piece of fabric—were all that were left in the ruins to indicate the method used to wreck the building.

Symbols and Traditions Used in Celebration of Easter Are Ancient; Came From Europe

Symbolism and traditions that have gathered about the celebration of Easter are very ancient and each of the many countries of our country today at Easter have legends in the European countries for centuries.

The egg, widely recognized as an emblem of Easter has from the most ancient times always symbolized creation and new birth. The egg is much in evidence in all the countries of Europe on Easter Day and in some places it plays an important part in religious ceremonies.

In America one of the most unique celebrations of Easter is the annual egg-tolling contest conducted every year on the lawn of the White House in Washington, D. C.

The rabbit or hare ranks second in popularity as an Easter symbol. The date of Easter is determined by the moon and the sun. St. Nicholas, who has always been closely connected with the moon, thus the significance of the Easter "bunny."

The candle, too, is a beautiful symbol of Easter and reminds one of the resurrection. The candle has risen from the grave. An impressive candle service is conducted every year in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre at Jerusalem.

Chances Are Milady's New Bonnet Will Be Sprinkled Well With Showers Sunday

Passimale as eggs, the weather man (that is) holds out slight hopes for a bright, cloudless Easter today in the hope that the blossoms on milady's newest Spring creation will be sprinkled well with showers Sunday.

He said this afternoon that clouds and winds would prevail tomorrow with the possibility that light rains would fall to dampen the spirit of Easter parades.

However, most of the world to agree that the weather man is not an authority anyway, and it could just seem that there couldn't possibly be another drop of moisture in the air.

JUSTICE BILL DISCUSSED

Creation of New Federal District Urged by Rochester Lawyers

Creation of a new Federal Court district, with Rochester as its center, rather than the appointment of a new judge to serve the present district, is suggested by the Rochester Bar Association.

Mr. W. S. Wicks ago the Chemung County Bar Association recommended the appointment of an additional judge to the district.

John H. Hazel, and it was the consensus of opinion among the members of the district court.

The report of the Rochester committee on the subject of the proposed new district, which provides for the new district, is against the proposed new judge.

More desirable, with greater economy and efficiency presentment. It is proposed to divide the present Western District, of which Rochester is a part, into two districts.

The proposed new district comprising the following counties: Allegany, Chemung, Livingston, Monticello, Otsego, Schoharie, Steuben, Orleans, Genesee and Wyoming.

Buffalo would be the center of the other half of the district. Rochester would be the center of the new district.

In support of this proposal, the Rochester report says the creation of a new district would mean no greater expense than the appointment of a new judge, as the salary of a judge in the proposed new district would be the same.

The cost of clerk and office would be divided between the two districts instead of concentrated in one.

The new clerk would have to be appointed for a new district, but he would take the place of two clerks now employed in Buffalo, says the report.

The appointment of a new judge in this city would be paid for by the saving in expense of travel and subsistence as he visits the various cities in the district.

Similar arguments are made in regard to the proposed appointment of a new marshal in the new district, with deputies and process.

It is pointed out that no new judge is needed in the proposed present Federal building in Rochester, has ample accommodations for the court and staff.

The report further states that the proposed new district would be a new marshal in the new district, with deputies and process.

FINE WEATHER FOR HOLIDAYS Easter in England is Observed by Crowds Who Take Long Week-end Off

LONDON, Apr. 19.—England's Easter holiday, which for the majority of people extends over Thursday night until Monday morning, is being favored this year with exceptionally fine, warm weather—an experience not common to Easter here.

Coming suddenly after a prolonged spell of cold, dreary weather, the sunny prospect has drawn millions out of the city to the country and seaside.

While every other transportation organization is getting big returns from the movement of the holiday crowds, the air transport firms are losing an opportunity through the continuance of their disputes with the pilots on the question.

Some of the big holiday traffic to the continent has fallen to the foreign firms whose planes continue to fly to capacity on the Channel, but these are unable to fill the demand caused by the exceptionally favorable spring weather of the last few days.

SPECIAL SERVICES Special Easter services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the North Church, in charge of the Rev. H. W. Alder and Alexander assistant pastor of the church. A large number of students attending Bible school at home for Easter, will also attend.

FLORIAN BEHS TO GROW Small ornamental flower beds prepared by amateur gardeners often fail to develop satisfactorily because of the poverty of the soil. This can be overcome, according to Popular Science Monthly for May, by laying a floor or base of ordinary building bricks and a circular retaining wall of bricks. The bricks are not laid in mortar, but are placed as close together as possible. The circular wall is made of single bricks placed on end.

The horse was an army horse.

the third can be modified and improved by fertilizers but the fourth is almost entirely under the control of the farmer and it is the one that is most neglected.

The use of seed grown either in the United States or Canada, was advocated since, Doctor Gross said, it produces a better yield, as a rule, and does not winter kill so easily.

Declaring the 1921 seed law was enacted to protect farmers, Doctor Gross asserted there were "hundreds of farmers now buying and sowing seeds without looking at the tag or label which the law requires to be placed on every package of farm seed, weighing ten or more pounds, who sold for seedling purposes."

Taking alfalfa seed as an example, he said the tag or label should show the common name of the seed, percentage of purity, percentage of weed seeds, the name and number of seeds per ounce of the nine noxious weeds designated in the law, percentage of germination, origin of the seed and name and address of the seedman selling the seed.

The average number of years a farmer works at his occupation is about thirty," Doctor Gross said. "His yearly crop may easily be reduced to per cent by sowing seeds of poor quality. This alone would prevent reducing his thirty years of productive farming to twenty-seven years."

In addition to the seed being poor quality it may contain a number of noxious weeds which will give him trouble and expense in eradication and at the same time will reduce the yield and market value of his crop and farm. This may be the means of further reducing the yield and market value of his crop and farm. This may be the means of further reducing the yield and market value of his crop and farm.

NUMBER OF FACTORY WORKERS IN MARCH SAME AS IN FEBRUARY

Employment in Metal Trades Was Irregular and Textile Level Lower in New York State

ALBANY, Apr. 19.—The number of factory workers in New York State in March was about the same as that reported in February. An increase in working forces is usual in March but employment in the metal trades was irregular this month and reduced in the cotton mills and carried the level in textiles a little lower.

Factory payrolls in March were slightly higher than those of the month before, but the difference represents only a gain from the holiday reductions in February. For a long time payrolls have been lower than for the same month of last year, because of the increases in wage rates, so that total wage payments are therefore factory workers' purchasing power remained high.

The important factors in the industrial situation at the present time are building, automobiles and textiles. As reflected in the building permits or in the building supply plants the construction industry is very active at present.

Structural iron plants were not so busy this month as last but much of the loss appears in ornamental iron. Activity in most of the building supply trades was brisk for this season.

Conditions in the textile plants generally showed no improvement in March. There was a gain in woolen and worsteds but it was not general and was overshadowed by the large number of cotton mills operating. Knit goods establishments ments took off a few workers in March and shoe factory payrolls increased as usual at this time of the year. Employment in both knit goods and shoe factories has been reduced somewhat since last fall, however, and it is expected a little below the level of a year ago.

There was little change in the furniture plants since February when the payroll in these factories declined a little. In contrast with the dullness in the previous months in New York State the State silversmith plants was continued active.

Sugar refineries added a few more workers this month to the number they had taken back in February and confectionery plants showed a small increase in force to meet the demands of the Easter trade.

BILL WHOORE IS SLATED TO TWIRL TODAY

Rochester Team's Pitchers are Thinned Out to Even Doz. on by Stallings

ROCHESTER, Apr. 19.—A rainstorm, dropping rain pattered over the grounds of the West End Park here today and caused the third game of the series between the Tribe and Rochester to be postponed. The Tribesmen were loath to call off the game with the untrained skaters, who already have fallen twice before the slants of wild pitches and who figured to fall again as easily with big Bill Whoore and Jack Wanser leading the series and make it four straight over the helpless Jersey City team.

Stallings was enthusiastic over the showing of the Tribe in the two games already played with the manager's eye and he believes that this year Heall will develop into one of the best pitchers in the league. It will be recalled that Stallings last year said he wouldn't take $15,000 for Heall, who later turned out to be just as good as at first believed. Asked if he would accept $15,000 for Heall now Stallings laughed and said, "Nothing doing. Watch him grow up, you will see a real pitcher on the Rochester staff, one who will make Wanser and the other bucks to keep up with him."

The twelve pitchers on the staff now are Beall, Wanser, Moore, Karp, Crowder, Matthews, Williams, Striker, Terburn, Rodgers, Gray and Wanser. Wanser was officially signed by Stallings today. He was with the club on trial and today received the bonus promised him if he was retained.

FAST PITCHING FINE FEATURE OF FIRST WEEK

Review of Initial Games in Big Leagues Shows General Tightening

NEW YORK, Apr. 19.—Tight pitching, unusual for this time of the year, has been a feature of the infant season in the major leagues in the first week.

The good form shown by the pitchers may be result of good conditioning in the south or may come from the new rule curtailing use of new balls or may be a combination of both.

Low score games prevailed in the first week. Lefty Cooper, the Pittsburgh veteran, led the Reds down with a five hit, one run game. Jack Quinn, the veteran Red Sox pitcher, held the slugger, Babe Ruth, to six hits, three runs and two errors in the first eight innings. Ed Rommel, the Athletics' ace, pitched a five hit, one run game with five hits, and Whitehill, the Detroit rookie, made the Athletics' debut with a five hit, one run game with seven hits.

With the Boston Braves on top, the National League standing presents a strange appearance for the first week. Pictures of the standing probably will be taken by Charles Mathewson to be hung on the walls of the club house on Belmont street in the fall. When the Brooklyn Robins were on top yesterday, Squire Ebbetts said these—"you're out in front now, my lad, and stay there." But they were only one day of their glory. With the Phils in last place, the older league has one familiar appearance at least.

The American League also is slightly upset with the Cleveland Indians in last place and the Detroit Tigers on top. The other clubs are all tied for second place. The Tigers probably will remain with striking distance of their present position but the Indians will not trail for long.

The Yankees in losing to the Red Sox yesterday started to hear out some of the predictions that were made about them. The Yanks have to lose some games but champion teams do not fall except so soundly that they allow two double steals to be perpetrated on them in one inning.

George Slaters, the star manager of the Browns, again caused joy to the thousands of fans who are pulling for his comeback when he hit a double and two singles, scored a run and accepted eight outs, chances perfectly.

Yale and Harvard, pioneers in international tennis play, will invade Europe this year for a series of international matches with some of the leading college and club teams of the old world. Several matches have been arranged prior to the dual match against the Wimbledon and Cambridge team at Eastbourne on July 25. The tour will then lead to France and Spain and to the Czechoslovakia.

It is not known whether the tennis teams will sail for England or sail straight for Australia. In the event an English tour is arranged the trip will be similar to the one arranged for the Yale and Harvard combined team.

Princeton is figuring on a somewhat similar tour to that which is trying to combine with some other college team.

TODAY'S GAMES SHIFT CLUBS TO NEW RIVALS IN EACH BIG CIRCUIT

Home Teams Remain in Their Own Camps While Another Set of Visitors Arrive For Second Series

NEW YORK, Apr. 19.—Seems shift in baseball's "big four" today. Home teams remain undisturbed at road outposts exchange locations.

In the American League, the Yankees, somewhat bedraggled but still champions of the world, leave Boston for Washington. Connie Mack's young athletes test the surprising Red Sox in morning and afternoon pairings of day games. Cleveland comes to Chicago and St. Louis invades Detroit.

Chicago and Cincinnati fight it out at Holland Field in the National League as Pittsburgh leaves St. Louis. Brooklyn leaves New York for Philadelphia and Dave Bancroft tries to lead the Philadelphia team to the Polo Grounds for a first-former team.

All games in the east were cancelled yesterday by rain and foul weather. In the west, Cleveland teams made their third out of four in the inter-city series with St. Louis. The Sox now lead the American League but Boston, with one victory and no defeats, tops the Cubs in the National.

Home runs by Grimes and Miller were instrumental in the 6-3 Cub victory over the Cards who were instrumental in the 5-1 victory. Rogers Hornsby, home run king, helped The White Sox, with Eddie Collins contributing a homer and two singles, smothered his on Ray Kohn and beat the Browns 5 to 1. Cincinnati hit safely again.

Carl Mays, pitching for Cincinnati in his National League debut, allowed the Pirates six hits in eight innings. He was relieved by a pinch hitter. The Reds won, 3-2, by scoring two runs in the ninth, when Bremer, a Coast League recruit, weakened after previously pitching a great ball.

Cleveland scored its first victory, defeating Detroit, 5 to 3, by hitting solidly, behind Edwards who held the Tigers to six blows.

PUT BIG BASE BALL IN RIVER

ALBANY, Apr. 19.—The Brooklyn baseball being rolled from Chicago to Washington in the interests of the Citizens' Military Training Camps was scheduled to forego its rolling program for floating here today when it was to be pushed into the Hudson river and started for Hudson, Broughs and New York City. The Boy Scouts had been detailed to push the ball to Hudson by way of the New York Post road, but in view of heavy rains it was suggested that the roads might be in poor condition and that the river route might be best. The ball will be guided from a boat. It is intended to land it at Governor's Island and then take it to the Yankee Stadium for the opening baseball game.

As Abe Martin Might Say

—Who remembers when men wanted cars with a long wheel-base? Now they want cars with a long transportation base and a short expense base. That's why we were delighted in getting a preferred factory franchise for Chevrolet.

The car of today is wanted for service more than style—economy more than a chance to exhibit wealth. For transportation in comfort at least expense, the Chevrolet Division of General Motors is answering that need.

INVOLVE VESSA IN BAIL CASE

Allege He Refused to Sign Bond After Being Paid $100 by Elmira Man

Accepting $100 from an Elmira man for which he agreed to sign a bail bond but failed to do so, is the charge made against Nick Vessa, of this city, by Frank Ruth of Elmira, who was arrested a few days ago in his home city on a charge of a violation of the Volstead Act. Ruth has, however, secured his bail bond from another source. It is said that some action is contemplated against Vessa by Attorney Michael O'Connor who represents Ruth.

Federal agents visited the Ruth place on April 8. It is said, armed with a search warrant but not finding any evidence in the building to justify an arrest they went to a lane adjoining the building where they found a broken bottle containing alleged liquor. When arrested, Vessa was found at $1,000 in Ruth's case and according to his story he agreed to pay Vessa $100 to provide his bond which he states the Corning man promised to do. Ruth claims that he gave Vessa the amount agreed upon but when arraigned in Elmira Vessa failed to sign the bond. According to Ruth's story he took the matter up with Vessa later and that the Corning man has refused to return the money.

REINHART TO BRING ACTION

Seeks Legal Right in Proceedings to Recover for Daughter's Death

John H. Reinhart, of Avoca, a well known railroad man, has started proceedings to bring an action in the Court of Claims against the State of New York for the death of his daughter, Miss Emma M. Reinhart, who lost her life in an automobile accident near Rochester last October when she was drowned in the barge canal.

The matter is now before Surrogate's court where Mr. Reinhart has petitioned to be appointed administrator of his daughter's estate to enable him to bring the action. The estate of Miss Reinhart and Turnbull of this city are attorneys for Mr. Reinhart.

Last October Miss Reinhart, in company with two other girls and a man by the name of William Arnold had started from Rochester in an automobile to go to a dance and at a point just outside of Rochester where the highway crosses the canal, a car approached from the opposite direction. The glaring lights confused the driver and instead of following the main highway, he drove on an abandoned road bed and the car went over a steep embankment into the canal, all of the occupants of the machine being drowned. It is alleged that the only guard rail leading to the bridge "looked" which caused the driver who drove on the wrong side of the road. At the time of the accident the highway officials were secured publicly by automobile club officials and by the engineer for their failure to provide proper guard rails at the approach to the bridge.

TERMINAL TO BE RETAINED

General Superintendent of Lackawanna Denies Rearrangement Rumors

The division terminal of the Lackawanna now located at Elmira will not be moved to Binghamton as part of the improvement to come with the new yard ...

Superintendent Shepherd was en route to his office from Elmira where he conferred with members of the Chamber of Commerce regarding plans of the Lackawanna for changing terminals.

The locomotive terminal at Scranton and Elmira probably will be moved to Binghamton sometime in the future, officials believe as a result of development of larger locomotives that can stand the strain of longer runs.

Binghamton is the half way point between New York and Buffalo, the terminals of the Lackawanna system. When the locomotive power of the railroad is developed so that engines can be operated from New York to Binghamton and from Buffalo to Binghamton ...

The Lackawanna main line now has three divisions, the Morris & Essex from New York to Scranton, the Scranton division from Scranton to Elmira and the Buffalo division from Elmira to Buffalo.

Three different engines are required to pull trains over the three divisions. The present locomotive equipment is not suitable for making longer hauls than now require on these divisions.

Plans for the classification yards contain provisions for making Binghamton the midway main line division terminal of the Lackawanna, where engines which can stand up under the run from New York to Binghamton and from Binghamton to Buffalo are developed.

The present administration of the Chamber of Commerce at Elmira probably will not see the change, officials say.

An Affair of the Heart

He was downhearted and blue. Nothing strange about that, for he was in love. Girl wouldn't have him. You know, the usual stuff about wanting to remain friends, all the sort of it.

And it might have ended there. Only it didn't. Because he met Blackburn one day. Blackburn told him a few truths about about as interesting to look at. He said "as an old newspaper. Why don't you spunk up and buy some new clothes? Give her a treat! ..."

He thought it over. After all, there might be something worth while in Blackburn's remarks. Blackburn had been around. He knew the world. Next morning he plunged a few dollars in a new outfit. Considered it sort of an investment in potential matrimony.

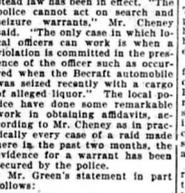

Wedding bells followed. Now, no one is silly enough to think she married him for his clothes. No, that's not it at all. The truth is, she wouldn't marry him on account of his old clothes. Get the difference.

GIRL, STRICKEN BY FEAR, IS KILLED BY PASSENGER. CHESTER, Pa., Apr. 15.—With two of her companions looking on unable to render help unless they themselves met the same fate, Mildred Kruse, aged 16, of 102 East Eighth street, met death in horrible form.

Having a holiday from school, and Edith and her siblings Jones went to the country to pluck flowers and ferns to decorate the church altar for Easter Sunday. On their way home the three children started to cross the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad bridge spanning Chester river.

As they were in the middle, Edith, brand an eastbound train approaching.

Warning her sisters and Mildred who leaped to the west-bound tracks, but Mildred stood rigid as a frozen tree so frightened that she was unable to move and was struck and killed.

Mr. Wagnmann Dixon, the engineer who in 1874 dug up the Croquet's No. 10, which now stands on the bank of the Thames, believes that there is a canal under the Great Pyramid of Egypt.

He cites the many allusions of such subterranean waterways found in the works of Herodotus and other ancient writers, especially referring to an underground chamber in the hill on which the Pyramid of Cheops stands.

NOT A CIRCUS; ONLY A CARNIVAL COMPANY. Many children and some groups, who were in the neighborhood of the New York Central station, during the morning hours were given a thrill while a circus train was apparently in the process of unloading.

A string of flat cars had been shored on the track the horses of the circus troupe. On investigation, however, it was learned that the "circus people" were the property of a carnival company which visited Riverside last summer and had left some of its belongings stored in Painted Post.
