Mr. George Peppard of Waterville, N. Y., one of our June graduates is filling a temporary position with an Elmira firm. Business firms filling temporary or vacation help should "phone the Institute. Several candidates are available.

Help Wanted
A Department of Public Works of the State of Pennsylvania writes, "Can you give us a young man qualified in bookkeeping and stenography? We have a position that requires the assistance of a young man proficient in these lines of work." We are recommending one of our young men to this position. Under date of June 10 a Pennsylvania firm telephoned, "Can you send us another young man just as good as the last one of your graduates that accepted a position?" The young man should possess a knowledge of stenography and be able to do clerical work." We have placed one of our June graduates in communication with this firm.

Former graduates of the Institute should keep in touch with our Employment Department. Oftentimes young people who experience are sought by larger firms and replacement of a much better salary often comes to those people if they can be placed in communication with the firms desiring help.

Former Students Married
The faculty and management of the Institute extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Root whose marriage was recently announced. Mr. Root, who came from Athens, Pa., and Mrs. Root, formerly Ruth Gregory, came from Laceyville, Pa.

School Worth While
If one contemplates taking a special training course during the school year 1924-25 the months of July and August are the time for investigation of schools. That prospective students may have an opportunity to learn what Meeker's has to offer, we extend an invitation to all prospective school departments, investigate our courses, and learn what we have been able to do for others. Thousands of graduates filling positions of responsibility and trust. What we have done for others can be done for young men and women of today. If you cannot call, write for information.

Matthewson of Bath, as executor of the will of his wife, against Deyo Geer, the Bath National Bank and John McCulley. MARRIAGE SCALES

By MILDRED BARBOUR

Copyright 1924 for The Evening Leader

Concerning The Action And The Characters
MARIANA PAGE, beautiful, idealistic, has reached the disconcerted stage of matrimony and finds her husband, CHARLES, dull and uninteresting, particularly when contrasted with CRAIG CULLAM, a young actor-star whom Mariana has seen but not met. She quarrels with DOUGL SCHEMER, her pretty, active young sister, who tries to interest her in Charles. Doña meets Cullam, who, instantly interested in her, promises his services to a forthcoming charity production. Charles sculms at his club and a friends' divorce between them, although the latter is in complete ignorance of Charles' relationship to her, and Charles does not know of Cullam's and Doña's acquaintance, nor of Mariana's idealization of Cullam.

CHARLES
CHARLES was the only being in the world whom Mariana had been thinking of that spring. But next to her, in pleasant companionship, was Charles. After those two—no body? The other people who counted him and tried to entertain him, his simply didn't exist. He accepted no social invitations. It was rather ironical that Mariana was accepting no social engagements either. Her secret reason for her declinations was fear of meeting Craig Cullam and destroying a precious illusion.

But the encounter was inevitable. Charles was the unaccountable instrument of Fate.

North Baptist Church and Proposed Addition to Be Built Shortly

The above picture of the proposed enlargement of the North Baptist Church, together with the present church, has been carefully worked out by the architect and building committee, which will greatly improve the appearance of the North and West exterior which was made as satisfactory by moving away a house which before the war stood on the site. The new addition will be built on the site of the old church, and will be a two-story building, 15 feet wide and 13 feet long. It will also give the church another exit and stairway to basement which is very much needed because of the cramped condition at each Sunday School hour as well as at other times when the basement is used for various purposes. The new addition will be a two-story building, 15 feet wide and 13 feet long. It will also give the church another exit and stairway to basement which is very much needed because of the cramped condition at each Sunday School hour as well as at other times when the basement is used for various purposes.

There are four things which make the improvement necessary at this time. First, because the present auditorium is too small, as it is necessary to use the side pews for nearly every service, and some seating special is being conducted, it is far too small to hold the people who come. Second, because the present church is so old, it is necessary to have a new roof which would be a waste to put on as it is, and then be torn off for enlargement later. Third, it must have a chimney for the heating system, as it was necessary to use expensive coal with present one, and this could not be built until the addition is made, without being torn down again. Fourth, the church is in need of a general overhauling and starting which seems very necessary at this time. The site of the new part of church as above mentioned is 15 feet wide and 13 feet long, the auditorium will be 14 feet square.

All Auto Drivers Must Have License Under New Law; Given Until October First to Qualify

Attention was called today to the fact that motorists must now observe a new motor vehicle law which was passed by the legislature on April 25 and which became operative July 1. The measure, which is known as Chapter 280 of the Laws of New York, contains several new features and every car owner or operator is being advised to make himself or herself fully acquainted with its details to avoid possible trouble later.

Under the terms of the measure motor vehicles are now under the direction of a state motor vehicle commissioner assisted by three deputies and a staff of inspectors who have exclusive control over all vehicles including registration, insurance of license, use of the highways and accessories on cars, and also have authority to punish violators.

The bill provides that every owner must file a verified application for a license which describes his car, the make, age, weight and other facts about it. It also directs that no person can operate or drive a motor vehicle without a license or operator's license, unless they file notice that they are learning to drive in which case they are granted a 30-day period in which to learn. In this event, the learner must be accompanied while driving by a licensed chauffeur or operator and both are held jointly liable under the law for failure to file notice of learning to drive and receiving permission therefor. No person under 18 years of age is allowed to drive a car unless from a state license such permission is given.

Drivers Must Carry License
The law provides that all chauffeurs and operators must carry their licenses with them at all times when driving and must exhibit such licenses to any peace officer when asked to do so, and also answer any questions such officer may ask.

No person is permitted to drive a motor vehicle without license plates on the front and rear of his machine and these must be securely fastened not less than 18 and not more than 48 inches from the ground. The law provides that these shall be kept clean at all times and so placed as to be readily visible at a distance of 50 feet.

Upon purchasing a car from a dealer, the buyer may use the dealer's license plates for five days and no person will be allowed to operate a car with dealer's plates on it, unless the dealer is licensed.

The law also defines reckless driving. It states that it shall include driving or using a motor vehicle in a manner which unnecessarily interferes with the free and proper use of a highway or unnecessarily endangers users of the highways. A speed limit of 10 miles per hour is ordered through all incorporated villages, towns and cities with the provision that if a driver is followed for an eighth of a mile and is found to be exceeding the limit, warning motorists of speed regulation he may be arrested for violation.

Licenses will be required for all persons who operate cars and between the last of this month and the first of October when their use becomes compulsory. Licenses will be issued.

The law provides that operation of a motor vehicle while intoxicated or leaving the site of an accident without making oneself known, makes that person guilty of a misdemeanor. The second offense is a felony, a felony in which where there are accidents in which no personal injuries are sustained by any involved, a mutual exchange of names, residences and license numbers is directed.
