WEDDING DATE ARRIVES WITH GIRL MISSING

Worried Bridegroom and Rejected Sister Centers of Unusual Love Story

COLUMBUS, Nov. 29.—A pretty girl, who disappeared on the night before her wedding, a worried bridegroom-to-be and a rejected sister were the principals in a story which has come to light here and which may be played in the hands of the police today to unravel.

Miss Jane Conley, 29, was to have been married Thanksgiving night to Frank Stier, Philadelphia real estate dealer. Wednesday night she disappeared, and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Conley, has not heard from her.

Thanksgiving morning, Mrs. Conley received a letter from Ashland, Ohio, signed by A. C. House, who it was said, was a friend of Jane, which read: "Jane's absence entirely my fault. Would she like to come home to house. Will write."

The question in Mrs. Conley's mind now, she said, is whether her daughter changed her mind and eloped with House, or whether she had been kidnapped.

Mrs. Conley said she would devote the remainder of her life to turn the affair over to the police.

House's parents are said to live in Ashland, Ohio, and Mrs. Conley expressed the belief that the pair might have been together.

FAMOUS OPERA COMPOSER DIES

Giacomo Puccini, Who Wrote "Butterfly" and "Girl of the Golden West" Dead

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 29.—(By A. P.)—Giacomo Puccini, famous opera composer, died at noon today from a heart attack after an operation. The direct cause of death was a blood clot.

Coming from a family which for a century and a half produced an uninterrupted line of famous musicians, Puccini's death is a serious loss to the world of music.

Puccini was one of the few composers of recent times whose opera has been both successful and lasting. As to numbers, he is matched only by Mussorgsky, but so far as the frequency of new works is concerned, the Italian composer far surpasses the Frenchman, in America at least.

"The Girl of the Golden West" was the last of the operas by Puccini to Americans upon the occasion of his visit to the United States in 1917. He came to attend the first American performance of his "Mammoe" at the Metropolitan.

Puccini was born at Lucca, Italy, June 22, 1858.

Albany, Utica, Syracuse, Rochester and Buffalo. It was announced today by Motor Vehicle Commissioner Charles A. Harrett. CANAL FREIGHT STATION BURNS AT SCHENECTADY

The building, which was used years ago to transfer shipments from canal boats to the railroad, was occupied by Mr. Kirchbaum, junk dealer. It is believed that the cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion in the heaps of rags stored in the building. Large embers were carried throughout the city, but heavy rain later apparently made them ineffective as no other fires were started.

Churchville for Second Time Without Blacksmith

CHURCHVILLE, Nov. 29.—Mark to the chagrin of horse-owners in this locality, Churchville for the second time in a century without a village blacksmith. This condition was brought about by the village smithy, Lewis Williams, having purchased a blacksmith shop at Spencerport where he has moved his blacksmith tools preparatory to doing business there.

The present shop is owned by J. Joseph Claude, local painter and superheater, and it is hoped by horse owners that some blacksmith will seek this profitable location and that the sound of the anvil by the village blacksmith will again be heard at Churchville.

BOOTLEGGERS MAY HAVE SET MANY BLAZES

Last Sunday morning a barn belonging to William Morrison at Havenport was burned with twenty head of cattle, several horses and other property valued at $15,000. The cause was said to be revenge by bootleggers whose still was raided nearby and who mistakenly believed Morrison had furnished the officials with a tip.

Yesterday two barns at Franklin Hill near New Milford were set on fire, the building owned by Harry Lawrence being destroyed with its contents, a short time after the barns of Harry Stockholm were fired and completely destroyed.

Officials are seeking the bootlegger firebrands.

However, it was learned on word from the postoffice that two small boys playing along the bed of Canadese creek near the Geneva street bridge found the package containing the money in a covered milk can. The boys both refused to talk, but it is understood the police had already interviewed them.

him, Dr. William H. Diefenbach, 1873.

By properly regulating man's glance will be able not only to control his mental characteristics

but also his physical appearance.

He will be within arm's reach to say whether he shall be tall or short,

fat or thin; whether his voice

shall be clear or hoarse.

This is to be accomplished by increasing the action of some glands and slowing down others,

and probably by occasional trans-planting of glands from one person to another, or from animals to humans.

Dr. Diefenbach maintains that the control of the ductless glands is superior to implantation of monkey glands as a restorative to youth. This is somewhat reassuring.

Most persons would rather have their glands "controlled" than replaced by those of monkeys, goats or sheep. There is an interesting fact of credit to the species line and taking on the attributes of animals along with the glands. Many marvels are doubtless derived from this line of experiment. But are not experiments conducted by a little more credu-lous than scientists are supposed to be? They may indeed increase health, lengthen life, but even correct behavior in many cases, by "monkeying with the glands." But it suggests that we will ever insure eternal youth or make man perfect mentally or morally is asking too much of human's credulity. Common sense is instinctive thinking insists that the laws of life are not as simple as the words of many a scientist.

The words of many a scientist are so complexly interwoven as to be so slightly interwoven with the words of a philosopher.

Here's a queer situation: "Bob

White" in some sections this day is clipping the songs by leaving off the "Bob."

The Unhappy Diamond

The famous "Blue diamond,"

which has been the subject of so much speculation, has been making trouble again. Superstitious people blame it for the latest misfortune that has befallen the man who owns the stone when he was at the height of his fame and wealth.

After her contact with the blue diamond, Miss Yohé certainly has had a very eventful life. She has been through many ups and downs. The other day her last ma-troupe partner, Capt. John A.

Conner, an Englishman, was killed. Possibly the diamond has been really unlucky and accursed

to Miss Yohé, as well as other owners of the stone. It has been because they believe it has evil

powers.

It is safe to say that there is no

ill luck attached to any material object except what comes from the hands of superstitious believers.

They are the victims of their own credulity, through the potent operation of the subconscious mind, which is a powerful force. The diamond is a beautiful stone, but it is not a magic stone. It is not a talisman. It is not a charm.

It is not a talisman. It is not a charm. It is not a talisman. It is not a charm. It is not a talisman. It is not a charm. It is not a talisman. It is not a charm.

It is not a talisman. It is not a charm. It is not a talisman.

CONGRESS FOR

TAX REVISION

IF INDICATED

And if Surplus Shows Possibility

of Reduction Representatives Will Vote it

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Political Correspondent of the Evening Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—

Returning members of congress are showing a significant curiosity

about the chances of an over-revision of taxes.

And they are

the answer to their

question cannot be given them by the president or the secretary of the treasury.

For tax revision depends on two factors. One is the business condition of the country—a better economic situation meaning increased revenues—and the other is the prevailing opinion of congress.

The treasury estimated last year that the surplus of 1924 was about $250,000,000, but it actually came to $500,000,000,

which was so far as to say that the treasury cannot be exact

and that a favorable business situation can change a prediction materially.

Assuming that on the basis of the figures already published,

there is an indicated surplus of about $750,000,000, this would be enough to warrant a recommendation for a revision of taxes.

But the experience of the past has taught that treasury estimates can be exceeded. For this reason some people have gone so far as to say that there will be a $500,000,000

surplus, notwithstanding the cut that has been made by the new tax law in the expected receipts.

Congress, to some extent, has been in the power to bring about a surplus of $500,000,000. Economy in expenditure will do the trick.

If a business man finds that he has a surplus at the end of a year, he will cut down his expenses of operation, and he will look for increased revenues.

The government and congress can improve economic conditions exactly by cutting down their expenses and avoiding the position of uncertainty in one form or another. But congress has not done this. It can fail to spend large sums of money, and it can fail to close the estimates of the treasury.

The budget director has done all the planning possible but congress has been known to slash appropriations which emanate from executive departments. The government's surplus came into being because of the relationship between the horizontal cut in taxes, and the 25 per cent on incomes earned by the government. Presumably the expenditure never has been so easy to determine nor so managed as it is today. Economy has always been something accidental because the government

Tartan Eleven Tries Today to do what No Other Team Has Done as Yet

PITTSBURG, Nov. 29.—The Tartan eleven from Carnegie Institute of Technology at Forbes Field today will attempt what all other teams so far this season found impossible—the defeat of Notre Dame.

Notre Dame's squad will be the fray under a handicap, "the four horsemen" famed in the game with Northwestern a week ago, and Carney will be used to fill the gap in the quarter. Rochelle said, "Notre Dame enters the fight a big favorite."

BUFFALO DECISION SHOCKS PROMOTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Charley Murray, able newspaperman and boxing promoter in Buffalo, attending Jack Beratis-Buffalo Kansas fight at Buffalo on Wednesday night, Kansas was given a surprise.

In a telephone call with Frank Journeay, bookmaker at Madison Square Garden, Murray said that he feared for the boxing game in Buffalo as a result of the decision.

"Beratis won by a million miles," he had both of Kansas' eyes cut wide open," Murray told Journeay.

The fans threatened to tear down the building when the decision was announced, according to Murray, himself a great boxer for Kansas, but an unprejudiced judge of a boxing contest.

THE SPORTLIGHT

(A Grantland Rice Column)

There will be a few scattered guns fired after today, but in the main the final curtain closes on most of the acts when the Army and Navy, Notre Dame and Carnegie, Georgia and Center, Boston College and Holy Cross exchange salutes.

The Army-Navy meeting in Baltimore is one of the most historic of all contests, fought out to the last play and usually anybody's game. The one handicap through past seasons has been the arrival of winter weather with an advance winter rain.

But whatever the weather there is nothing that can take away the sparkle and the dash of this closing classic which will again be one of the hardest fought battles of a big football campaign.

"THE LAST RIDE TOGETHER"

It was Mr. Browning who immortalized this verse. He might have written it to this effect:

"Crowley and Layden, side by side,
Miller and Stuhldreher in their stride,
After today will no more ride—
And so their certain falls to-night."

"Isn't this Notre Dame backfield the greatest that ever played?" asks C. W. M.

It is the greatest we have ever seen when speed, power, team play, rhythm, grace, dash, and general ability are all to be considered. There has never been one with as much beauty of rhythm.

They have been in only two defeats in three years, both from the same team. After today they fade from the scene, but no one who saw them play this fall will forget the picture.

There have been greater individual backs. But we have never seen four upon one team who had as much class.

Harvard wasn't so far away around 1915 with Logan, Mahan, Bradles and Brickley. But there is something indefinable about this Notre Dame set of backs which goes on beyond mere ability. We have read a dozen of letters from football fans who have written they would rather see this quartet in action than any team that ever played. "If I had his play," writes one, "I would have followed them in every game they played."

The East discovered that Red Grange was a leading star this year. But in October, 1923, over a year ago, Warren Brown came on from Chicago with this report: "I have just seen the greatest back of all time. His name is Grange, of Illinois. Just one game was enough to show what he could do. He is the hardest man to tackle or stop I ever saw and for the next three years he will make football history." Grange has scored 150 points in his first two years against strong opponents and Mr. Brown's prophecy has already made good, whatever the future may hold.

Grange will be seen in the East next fall, and our first prophecy for 1925 is that tickets for the Pennsylvania-Illinois game at Franklin Field will be as easy to buy as Rembrandt paintings.

GIBBONS AND KID NORFOLK

Kid Norfolk is a house-hold name of glory. His are few as fast. But if he can find a way of slipping through Tom Gibbons' defense he will be one of the season's marvels.

Gibbons comes close to being the best defensive fighter and the most scientific boxer now living. He has few waste motions. There is an one who uses his inside to better effect. Even Dempsey couldn't upset his coolness and his poise.

Gibbons isn't the greatest chance taken that ever lived, but at the age of thirty-four he never yet been humiliated from his feet.

"On what basis," asks a reader, "do you rate Mickey Walker as a great fighter?" On the basis of speed, power, skill and first-class fighting spirit. Despite the fact that he wears a crown he is always willing to take a chance and to mix it at any given range. No one knows better than Benny Leonard just how good Walker is. Which is one of the reasons why Benny and Mickey have never met.

BENNY PUNCH

"We hear that one of the American baseball players in London who made a mighty hit and was greeted by a cricket enthusiasm in the crowd with the cry of 'Oh, pretty play, sir!' is getting on as well as can be expected."

WILLING LISTENERS

From time to time inquiries have come in asking what has become of The Willing Ears Company, Ltd., which was to furnish Willing Listeners to golfers for $2 an hour.

The trouble was this: Most of the Willing Listeners started in to play golf and from that moment lost all interest in the other fellow's ball. Each had too many of his own to relate to friend, acquaintance or stranger to waste any time upon another's woes or triumphs.

VICTORIOUS CORNING FREE ACADEMY SQUAD

Included in this new picture of the C. F. A. football squad, which was taken at the game with Northside High school eleven. The latter team has not yet posed for the 1924 photograph but will have made arrangements to do so, with their coach, Jacoby, to whom is given much credit for producing a team that could put up the battle that was given C. F. A. today. On either in the above cut is Superintendent Sherman Howe and Principal Ridemour.

Painted Post basketball team has started off well with two victories. They were both against teams that will later meet the Academy in County League struggles.

Kid Norfolk is positive of beating Tom Gibbons, of St. Paul, when they clash in their efforts round conflict at Madison Square Garden on December 3. In fact he is so positive that he has turned over $10,000 in real money to his manager, Leo Flynn, and advised him to wager it all that he will beat Gibbons. All of which is very likely to be true.

Nothing definite has been arranged for the officials as yet, but a meeting of the committee has been called for Monday evening and at this time the date will be set and the matter of stowage and other details will be discussed.

Williams included on Cornell's 1925 list

Williams, Conn., Nov. 29.—The Williams college basketball team will play eight games in 1925, according to the schedule announced today, which includes the following contests:

October 2, Hamilton; October 3, Bowdoin; October 10, Cornell; October 17, St. Stephen's; October 24, Colgate; October 31, Union; November 7, Wesleyan at Middletown, Conn.; November 14, Amherst.

He went on still farther, "I have drawn 10,000 of my ring savings that I have turned over to my manager to bet that I get the decision from Tommy. He has proved that against an opponent, as light as he, he has always had his hands full. Harry has never been beat, I am making him jump out of the ring. I met Groh several times and he has never won out of that battle, ask Groh if he would consent to meet me again."

Here's one for the book: Norfolk is colored light, Harry's a champion of the world. If Gibbons beats him, he will get his title. And if he does beat it, he will have to "black up" to defend it.

President and Party to See Soldiers and Sailors Play Annual Gridiron Contest

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—An exodus that left Washington almost devoid of officialdom began at daybreak today and continued through the morning with Baltimore and the football game there between the Army and Navy as the magnet of attraction.

The annual gridiron contest between the Military academy and the Naval academy teams always has drawn heavily on Washington's population, but with the scope of the game nearer to the capital than it has been in years, the seat of the government "self" was moved to the Maryland city.

The crowds that left Washington for Baltimore by train, interurban and motor included most of the members of the cabinet, hundreds of members of congress here for the convening of that body next Monday, and a host of other officials. Leading the list were President and Mrs. Coolidge, who had arranged to leave the White House shortly before noon and motor to Baltimore to see their first Army-Navy game since they entered the White House.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge, with the members of their party, in accordance with the custom were awarded a box during the first half on the Navy side.

ARMY FAVORITE IN PREDICTIONS FOR GAME WITH MIDDIES

Soldiers Are Conceded Slight Advantage but Experts Point Out That Service Classics Often Surprise

PITTSBURG, Nov. 29.—(By A. P.)—Army and Navy will fight for football supremacy this afternoon in Baltimore stadium in what promises to be the greatest spectacle since the service classic was inaugurated in 1910.

The soldiers are top heavy favorites to win this battle, upon which leadership in the long service depends, before a colorful throng of 75,000, the largest ever pouring in the history of service rivalry. The sailors, mindful of many upsets in the past, are conceded at least a good fighting chance. Details of the fray may be heard by millions altogether through seven radio stations that will broadcast the game. President and Mrs. Coolidge, viewing their first Army-Navy game, will head a host of high government officials, officers of the both arms of service, diplomats, governors and other dignitaries whose presence makes up one of the most notable gatherings this picturesque gridiron engagement has ever had.

The chief executive and his party, arriving by automobile from the capital shortly before noon, were to be guests of the city of Baltimore at a luncheon to distinguish victory. The president will divide his sympathies during the game by occupying a box on the Navy side of the field for one half and crossing to the Army side for the other.

Baltimore, host to the service game for the first time, was dressed in holiday attire as thousands poured into the city by automobile and special train throughout the morning from all parts of the country. Favorable weather was the only element needed to make the municipal celebration complete and though there was a threat of rain or snow in early forecasts, the sky seemed likely to be clear for the evening while at two o'clock the arrival of the Cadets' corps from West Point and the Virginia Military Institute in Baltimore was scheduled for round midday, in time for them to make precise maneuvers for the benefit of the crowd.

Five hundred policemen were assigned to same duty while special squad over-eyes were detailed to check the operations of ticket speculators, whose activities were halted to some extent by several arrests.

Army's prospects of victory caught the fancy of a vast majority of gridiron followers, largely because of the more impressive record of the Cadets, their more experienced material and a formidable attack line around Harry Wilson, all-American halfback. Navy, however, was considered to have strengthened by an eleven hour shift that added to the already forward wall of the sailors and was not lacking in enthusiasm for the support. This change sent Edley to right guard in place of Chillingworth and kept Osborn at center instead of Eber.

The sturdy defense of the Midshipmen is constructed largely around plans to stop Wilson, who has been the Cadets' chief ground runner all season. Army supporters, however, are confident the former Penn State flash will prove a decisive factor, together with such other assets as Bill Wood's talented toe and the line work of one of the best center trios in the east—Captain Garbach, at center, flanked by Ellinger and Farwick.

The probable lineup:

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING IS HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL

A very enthusiastic mass meeting was held at Northside High School Auditorium Wednesday evening in preparation for the game yesterday. There were about 100 students and alumni to give the boys a good send-off to defend the Orange and the Black. Speeches, songs and yells, the latter led by Miss Evelyn Rose, were the feature of the evening.

The speakers of the evening were A. M. Blodgett, Hugh Griggs, Arthur Jacoby, Clayton Rose, Roland Stanley, Frank Berry, Clarence Briscoe. Although the boys were beaten yesterday, the spirit of Northside can never be beaten so long as her students and alumni are her loyal defenders in the future as they have been in the past.

MISS GRAY-LHEWINE WILL BE ENTERTAINER DE LUXE ON THURSDAY

Native and Winsome Story-Telling Violinist Should Pack C. F. A.

Estelle Gray-Lhevine will appear at Corning Free Academy Auditorium next Thursday in two complete and different concerts. In the afternoon she will give a concert for the school children and the evening concert will be arranged for adults. Both programs will be entirely different. Each will be as original as the manner of the great European artists.

The concerts have been arranged by Corning Rotary, and any profit accruing to Rotary as a result of the concert will be given to the Children's Fresh Air Camp at Hiram Hill.

Gray-Lhevine is world famous. She has played all over the world, but particularly she has played her two seasons on tour.

She seems like a slip of a girl when on the stage, but with her remarkable violin playing together with her entertaining conversation she always draws audiences from tears to laughter, and all of the time she appears to do it without effort.

People who have heard Gray-Lhevine say that she plays as though her soul had entered the violin; and they add that if she had chosen expression instead of music she would have been one of the world's most charming dramatic artists.

Thousands of letters have been written to Gray-Lhevine's manager from people of every race, color and age, and from every state in the Union—from cultured artists and from rough men; from society leaders and from school children; from conservators of music and from mining camps; and all of the letters speak of her versatility and ability and the range of her art.

Corning Rotary has arranged for her service from all of the schools so that all of the school children will be able to attend the afternoon concert. The admission price for the children will be 25 cents. The evening price for adults will be one dollar, although Gray-Lhevine appears in Buffalo a few days after her engagement here at $2.50 admission.

WILL ERECT TABERNACLE FOR REVIVAL

Wint promises to be the greatest series of revival services held in this city for many years. The series will begin on December 10 to February 8 under the joint sponsorship of the Protestant churches of Corning and under the leadership of Dr. George Wood Anderson, well known evangelist preacher and author, according to plan made by a committee of ministers representing the Protestant churches, who met last night in Recreation Hall of the First Methodist church.

Those present heard an outline of the preliminary work and the plan to be taken in order to pave the way for the meetings. Among the matters settled was the location for a huge tabernacle which will house the movement. A report was made that permission had been granted by the Corning Homes, Inc., to use its property on the site of the old bridge and the churches decided that this was the most desirable place for the tabernacle.

Governor Smith Endorses Sale of Christmas Seals

Governor Smith today expresses his approval of the Christmas Seal Sale and its purposes in a proclamation endorsing the seventeenth annual Christmas Seal sale carried on by local, state and national tuberculosis organizations to raise funds for the support of their work.

Christmas Seal, sold annually in New York State, and throughout the nation during the holiday season, offer to every one an opportunity to contribute to the movement to prevent, cure and control tuberculosis, and to promote health generally, carried on by committees of public spirited citizens in all parts of the country, in conjunction with the official public health authorities.

"During the last two decades, vigorous and determined efforts have been made to prevent this disease, which has been for centuries among the most tragic afflictions of mankind. Since seventeen years ago, when systematic efforts against this devastating disease began in this state, the death rate from tuberculosis here has declined thirty-five per cent.

"The Christmas Seal Sale has been an increasingly important factor in this campaign. It has enabled organizations of citizens to arouse interest and spread information everywhere, bringing new to the people the latest scientific knowledge about tuberculosis, starting new lines of health work, and showing whether these activities are of practical value and suitable for the public authorities to carry on and maintain.

"Further progress can be made by keeping up such intensive and comprehensive effort, and all in this life-saving work. Therefore, I, Alfred E. Smith, Governor of the State of New York, do hereby proclaim the month of December as the period of the Seventeenth Annual Christmas Seal Sale, and I commend the appeal of such Christmas Seal to the charitable impulses of the people of our commonwealth as a practical expression of the spirit of good will toward men.

"Given under my hand and the Privy Seal of the State at the Capital in the City of Albany this twenty-first day of November in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and twenty-four."

Rev. Penfold and Mrs. Lohr Deny Charges of Perjury in Indictments

The Rev. Charles C. Penfold, former pastor of the Sentinel M. Church at Buffalo and Mrs. Freda Lohr, choir singer, were arraigned yesterday in County Court at Buffalo and entered pleas of not guilty to indictments charging perjury. Mrs. Lohr entered a similar plea to a charge of obstructing justice, which was released on $2,000 bonds although no date were set for trial.

The annual session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which met in Corning last month took up the case of the Rev. Penfold and Mrs. Lohr. After a long and heated discussion it was declared that he was "the victim of a conspiracy" following an outrageous persecution of himself and family. It was also stated in the resolution that the Buffalo minister was innocent of the charge of outraging public decency. He was, however, condemned for making a false statement to the conference and the conference extended its forgiveness referring to him as "penitent man." The Rev. Penfold requested to be permanently with drawn from the ministry fearing that the case might bring reproach upon the church and the conference accepted temporarily to this request.

It is not improbable that motions may be made to dismiss the indictments on the allegations that the facts therein do not constitute crime. The indictments relate to the alleged representations of the defendant that they were man and wife and the lawyers, it is said may present the claim that this was not a material fact in the case and therefore the indictments are illegal, as perjury requires a false statement concerning a material fact in the case.

The perjury indictment charges that the Rev. Penfold swore falsely to the jury that he and Mrs. Lohr were man and wife and that she swore falsely that he was her husband when they testified in defense of the pastor upon his trial before a justice of the peace on a charge of obstructing public decency on the night of September 19.

The other indictments charge that Mrs. Lohr was guilty of violating the law of decency when she was found in an automobile with the pastor on a suburban road. The indictment charges that they were "conducting a lewd and lascivious performance" and that she was found guilty by the justice of the peace and sentenced to 30 days in the county reformatory. After serving three hours he was released on bail pending an appeal.

The Rev. Penfold, it is said, prior to his arrest, was vice crusader and formerly was chairman of the social service committee of the Buffalo Council of Churches. He was a prominent figure in the religious and social life of the city and was alleged police corruption two years ago.

—Miss Leona Fuller has returned to her home in Corning after spending some time visiting in this city.

DRIVER DRUNK NOT GUILTY

John Mangin Pleads Guilty Following Crash of Car

John Mangin, 45, of 224 West First street, was fined $100 in City Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated. Mangin was arrested by Judge Wheeler and he was placed under probation for a one year term during which he is to make restitution to the amount of $100 for damages done to an automobile owned by Anthony Keller of East First street.

Mangin was arrested shortly after midnight last night by Captain Shlimer when he ran into the Keller car driven by Walter J. Cunningham of 499 Oak street. The accident occurred at the corner of East First street. Mr. Cunningham was driving south on Cedar street and had just started to turn left when he was struck by the car. Captain Shlimer who stood on the corner and heard the crash and heard the scene. Tracks in the snow indicated that Mangin was pursuing a very crooked path. In his journey west on First street, according to Captain Shlimer's report and the man at the corner, he was driven by much under the influence of intoxicating liquor. When arraigned at the county court, Mangin pleaded a plea of guilty and signified his willingness to make restitution for the damage to the car. The Keller car was struck on the right side and crashed into the curb on the south side of the street. One of the front wheels was broken, the machine disabled, a side door torn off and the body of the car damaged. The machine driven by Mangin was also considerably damaged.

Elmira Man Joins Army After Quarrel With Sweetheart; Now He Wants to Change His Mind

The lengths to which a man will be driven by the little girl cupid is a story which was told Saturday an ex-serviceman who had made six years service in the U. S. Navy, and had been honorably discharged about three years ago, rushed up to the recruiting office in Elmira and with a grim determined air demanded to be enlisted in the army. He was allowed to fill out enlistment papers and be sent to "anywhere" so long as it was away from Elmira.

Accordingly the officer helped him enlist in the army and assigned him to the Infantry, 8th Corps Arty. with headquarters in Fort Sam Houston, Texas. The papers were sent to Syracuse and the recruit was ordered to report Monday morning for transportation to Syracuse.

Monday morning came but no messenger from his country appeared. Instead as the day approached the recruiting officer, who was a very friendly fellow, changed his mind and begged the man to return to his enlistment papers.

It was impossible to do so as the papers had been sent to Syracuse.
