The High Polar Explorers

BEST POLAR EXPERTS BELIEVE EXPLORERS WILL REPORT SAFELY
Though New York Rumor Spreads Possible Disaster to Aviators, Norway Observers Say Chances Favor Them

OSLO, Norway, May 23.—(By A. P.) The Shipping Gazette reports that the weather conditions for Captain Amundsen's polar flight continue very favorable, and that there is every hope of the expedition returning safely.

A dispatch from the latter states the weather is mild. The temperature is not in communication with the other expedition ship, the Hobb, as the latter is not equipped with wireless.

Persons with Arctic experience or other expert knowledge appeared today to think that Amundsen's continued absence indicates that he had landed at the Pole or at least discovered the interior of the body of land upon which he had landed, where the auxiliary ship was and accurate location.

In either case, it was said, he might have encountered difficulties in attempting again to take the air. Some believe that about the latest news for further expedition until the summer can return to the Arctic, where the ships are waiting, or until the explorers can reach some other place on Spitzbergen and get in touch with the radio station at Green Harbor.

If a favorable landing place was not found at the pole, the journey from Kings Bay to the Pole and return should have occupied about sixteen hours, and the party should have arrived at its base yesterday afternoon.

Enlarging his self-imposed circle of looking out for things about the grounds, the pup has found the bearing even of a couple of White House messengers not like his liking and from the trousers of one of them he extracted a large piece of cloth.

BEHRMAN CASE TO BE FIRST

Unusually Important Term of Tioga Court Promised Next Monday

WELLSBORO, Pa., May 22.—The regular May criminal session of the Tioga County courts which convenes here Monday, promises to be an unusually important one. The calendar numbered 45 cases, last week before the Grand Jury had returned 21 true bills, from the cases presented last week by the District Attorney.

The first case to be called will probably be that of the commonwealth against Herman T. Behrman of Westfield, charged with violation of the liquor laws. Mr. Behrman has been tried by jury on this charge once before, in the year in the Tioga county courts, after his returning a verdict of not guilty and placing the costs on him. During a liquor raid last December, he was arrested and would have been tried at the regular January sessions, but for the illness of an important witness.

Four colored women, who canvassed sections of the city during the week for funds as they claimed for a colored orphanage, were stopped in the police yesterday by the action of the police by Commissioner Thomas J. Amey, who had received complaints against the women.

The four women gave their names as Gladys Hawkins, 25; Charlotte Vanover, 54; Mable Chaffee, 36; and Teresa Washington, 29, and all claimed that they resided in Auburn, where the husband of the last named was the minister of a colored church. The women, each of whom was dressed as a deaconess, were soliciting funds for colored orphanage, but they were unable to give any satisfactory explanation of how the money was to be used or where it would be used.

The women did not have any credentials from the local colored churches. After being questioned Acting Chief Broderick the four women were warned not to continue their soliciting in the city.

PEEPING TOM BEING SOUGHT

Residents of Pearl street are Frightened at Actions of Strange Man

For the third time within two weeks the local police received a report last evening that a man peeping through windows in the eastern section of the city was causing considerable fright among residents of that section. The report last evening came from Mrs. Kenneth Jackson, of 154 Pearl street, who stated that a man wearing a blue cap and who had exceptionally large eyes, had rapped at a window of her home. This happened shortly after 10 o'clock and after rapping on the window the man quickly disappeared.

Mrs. Jackson also reported the occurrence to some of her neighbors and they, with the assistance of Captain Shannahan and Patrolman Hammond secured that section of the city but were unable to find the man. Although no other reports were made to the police it was said that a stranger had tapped on other windows in that neighborhood during the evening.

The police have been investigating various reports of a "Peeping Tom" in the eastern section of the city but they have been unable to get any clues as to the identity of the man. Sometimes one Horrell was bothered by a similar experience of a man peeping into windows and it is believed that the person at work here might possibly be the same one who caused so much trouble and worry in Horrell.

U. S. COMMISSIONER IS OF SAME OPINION AS PROHIBITION CHIEF Believes Supreme Court Justices and the County Judges Can Issue Search Warrants in Dry Cases

U. S. Commissioner Claude V. Stowell agrees with Palmer C. Canfield, prohibition director of New York state. Mr. Canfield, with whom many commissioners have disagreed, recently declared that "Justices of the Supreme Court and county judges are authorized to issue search warrants under the national prohibition act."

Commissioner Stowell bases his assertion in supporting the statement of Mr. Canfield, on a section of an act of June 15, 1917, pertaining to search warrants. It reads: "A search warrant authorized by this title may be issued by a judge of a United States district court or by a judge of a state or territorial court of record or by a United States commissioner for the district wherein the property sought is located." In support of his stand on this matter Mr. Stowell states that there is no question but that under this law and also under section 25 of the Volstead act but that any judge of a court of record can issue the search warrants.

Mr. Stowell is also of the opinion that a county district attorney has the same power to institute injunction proceedings to close up and padlock premises being used in violation of the national prohibition act as the United States attorney. He also points out that the state supreme court has the same jurisdiction in such cases instituted by the county district attorney as the United States courts have in cases brought by the United States attorney.

The following portion of section 22 of the Volstead act is referred to by Commissioner Stowell in emphasizing his stand that a local district attorney can institute padlock proceedings without any hindrance from the federal government. An action to restrain any nuisance defined in this title may be brought in the name of the United States by the attorney general of the United States, or by any United States attorney or any prosecuting attorney of any state or any subdivision thereof by the commissioner or deputy commissioner or assistant. Such an action is equity and may be brought in any court having jurisdiction to hear and determine equity cases."

To Jane's question about Mammy Lisa, Mrs. Duley responded quickly.

"A most remarkable story," she replied.

"A most remarkable tale," mocked her husband.

"Oh, no John," protested Mrs. Duley reproachfully. "why, she can tell you the most amazing things—who your father and mother were for instance, vital statistics, and a host of other things."

"She probably gets that from her own imagination," said John.

"But she does the same for perfect strangers, people she has never seen before. Sometimes she can even tell your name, has she not?"

Question: Why do you find better workmanship in Buick motor cars?

Answer: Buick's precision methods are possible because of Buick's great volume. It would be impossible to put such fine workmanship into Buick cars for their price if Buick built but a few thousand cars a year.

Kiddies, the Secret is Out! Raggedy Man Tells How Boys and Girls May Win Prize

Hello Girls and Boys! I've heard of another block in Corning now where there are three boys and girls 15 years old or younger. That will get the prize if some boy or girl does not do it. I think I could do better than that myself but perhaps I couldn't get only nine or ten years old does it. This is wonderful weather to get outside and get acquainted with the other children in your block. Count them and see how many live near you. Also I wonder if some of you wouldn't like to write me letters and tell me some of the things that happen to you as you try to count these children.

CLEAN SWEEP VICTORIES FOR RED AND BLUE OARSMEN IN CHILDS CUP REGATTA TODAY

NEW YORK, May 23.—(A. P.)—Pennsylvania made a clean sweep of the three races in the Childs Cup regatta on the Harlem today.

The University of Pennsylvania freshmen crew won the first race of the Childs Cup regatta on the Harlem river today. Princeton was second and Columbia third. The time for the mile and a half race was 7:57.

The red and blue oarsmen won handily by 5 lengths. Columbia was a length behind Princeton. The Pennsylvania sweep swimmers jumped into the lead at the start and were never headed.

All of the crews held their final workouts yesterday—afternoon. Coach Rice ordered his three crews to show off from the Pennsylvania freshmen early in the afternoon, and put them through an easy mile and a half spin. The Tiger eight arrived from Princeton late in the afternoon and immediately started on a light row to show Penn as the best of houses. After Princeton had returned from the water, Head Coach Fred Miller gave the Columbia crew a light workout of about four miles.

THE SPEEDER

Here goes another spring—Then summer, autumn and the winter's snow; Then winter, then the spring, and the summer's sun. For I remember when a summer's day Was in its endless time from dawn to night, When now it's but a breath upon the wing Of seasons rushing forward in its flight.

As we grow older Time is faster still. Where moments seem to pass in twinkling of an eye. A wild and reckless speeder down the hill To the valley where the day is done. We'll save out something for a dream or two, For friends and play, as cars and wicker wait. We mean it truly, as the others do, Until we find some morning it's all over.

ON THEIR WAY—SOMEWHERE

Three young men of more than passing promise in the pugilistic arts will be held in the Yale Stadium. They are Paul Berenbach, Jimmy Slattery and Jack Delaney. McGee and Manville will have something to say in regard to two of these athletes, but the one mentioned are the ones who appear to be going a bit further.

With a slush of luck these three young men will earn or collect a million dollars, whether they ever win a championship or not. They will be headlines in more than one big show, and they have already put enough aside to take care of more rainy days than Scotland can show in the rainy season.

CENSUS TAKERS IN CONFERENCE

Enumerators to Wear Badges As Result of Operations of Bogue Agent

Due to the gathering at Albany of county supervisors of census from all sections of the state other than the metropolitan district, when technical questions involved in the coming enumeration are discussed, similar meetings will be held in each of the counties in which the supervisors will communicate to enumerators the information gathered in Albany.

Equipped with pads and pencils, and making many questions of Florence Knapp, secretary of state; Lafayette B. Gleason, state supervisor of census, and Robert S. Knapp, deputy supervisor, the county supervisors gathered a mass of information that will stand them in good stead from June 1 to 15, when the big count will be taken.

Will Use Name of Roads.—It was decided at the meeting that as far as possible the term "R. F. D." denoting the place of residence would not be used in country districts. Wherever possible, the enumerator is to ascertain the road upon which the person resides.

Persons living the early part of June at Saratoga Lake, Lake Placid and Tupper Lake, will not be counted.

Some of the county supervisors asked who would decide as to what constituted extra concessions of enumerators in sparsely settled districts such as Hamilton county, where there are 110 square miles to the eleven districts. Mr. Walter Gleason replied that this rested entirely with Mrs. Knapp, although she would expect recommendations from the county supervisors as to what is proper remuneration.

The question was also raised as to who would meet the expense of enumerators forced to row in boats to islands to question the residents. It was agreed that this was to be decided by the supervisor and by Mrs. Knapp.

It was made clear to all county supervisors that enumerators are privileged to secure the aid of police and other officers when persons refuse to answer questions.

A woman supervisor stated that several women in her district had asked her if they would be forced to give correct ages. She was informed they would have to give truthful answers as to age.

Disclosure today that a bogus census taker, enumerators had been seen in Albany, led to the issuance of orders by Secretary Knapp that authorized state census cameras.

tors shall, while on duty, wear a metal badge bearing the words "census enumerators." The seal of the state and the signature of Mrs. Knapp, in addition to the badge, the enumerators will carry identification cards.

The official enumerators will not begin their work until Monday, June 1st.

80 Per Cent Electrified

Four-fifths of Corning and immediate vicinity is equipped with electricity, which takes meaning from the fact that the average runs around 60 per cent in the cities of the state, and there are many cities much larger than Corning where only forty per cent of houses are wired for electricity.

This may account for the new electrical store opened by E. F. Green at the corner of Pine St. and Erie Ave. recently. The store is displaying all the new things in electrical fixtures and appliances. With its atmosphere of service and courtesy, Mr. Green should have a substantial part of the city's electrical business.

Indefinitely, Mr. Green invited us with the first printing job for the store.

THREE YEAR OLD GIRL SUCCUMBS AS RESULT OF PAINFUL BURNS

Amelia, Three Year Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Longo, is Badly Burned Over Entire Body

Amelia, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Longo, of 48 East William street, died this morning, May 22, 1925, at 12:30 o'clock as the result of severe burns she received when her clothing caught fire from a bonfire in front of the home of her parents Friday afternoon about 3 o'clock. It was the second accidental death of a child within a week, James Sloan, son of Dr. and Mrs. William S. Sloan of 9 Jenkins street, died Sunday as result of injuries sustained when struck by an automobile.
Mrs. Longo who was doing her spring house cleaning had set a bonfire of papers on the bank in front of her home and after watching the fire until it had apparently burned to ashes returned to the house and continued her work. She was attracted by screams and rushing to the door saw the little girl enveloped in flames which had burned her clothing almost entirely off and her body to a crisp.
As soon as possible the burning clothing was torn from her body and she was rushed to the house. Dr. A. L. Darling was called and dressed her burns but the child was burned so badly that there was no hope held for her recovery. When discovered she was a mass of flames and it is believed that as the fire caught the light material of her dress that she threw up her arms and flames from her burning sleeves caught her hair which was burned from her head. The only parts of her body not burned so badly was under a sweater which she wore and which did not burn so quickly due to the fact that it was of heavier material. Her ankles were not burned although her shoes were scorched.
When the fire was lighted the little girl was playing with some neighbor children in the rear of a house some distance from the Longo home and the children were not in the vicinity of the fire when the mother left it thinking so far gone that she was possibly done. It is not known whether the little girl walked near the fire and the flames had sprung up from some papers packed too tightly to burn as readily as the rest or whether she picked a smoldering piece of paper from

FIND INFANT IN THE RIVER

Dead Body is Wrapped in Woman's Petticoat and Shirt-waist; Officials Busy

A startling discovery was made at Painted Post yesterday by two small boys, who planning on going for a swim, found the body of a perfectly formed male infant in a pool of water along the river bank of the Jenks farm on the Canada road. The child had been dead six or seven days as the body had started to decompose, and it had evidently been in the water for four or five days.
Officials who are investigating the matter are puzzled as they have been unable to find any clues whatever that might lead to the identity of the baby or who might be responsible for it being placed in the water.
The deceased is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Longo, one brother, Anthony, and one sister, Frances, at home and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Negro of East William street.
The funeral will be held from St. Vincent de Paul's Church Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

DOOR BROKEN DURING RAID

Sheriff and Officers Denied Admission to Home of John Andrade

The home of John Andrade, at 520 Baker street, was raided late Friday afternoon by Sheriff Page assisted by Under Sheriff Barker and two Federal agents and a small quantity of alleged "moonshine" was taken for evidence. Andrade whose home had been searched on previous occasions was arrested before Commissioner Claude V. Stowell and entered a plea of not guilty.
The raid was made at 12:00 and the case adjourned to May 27 for a hearing.
When the sheriff and his party arrived at the Andrade home they found the door locked. It was necessary for the officers to break down the door to gain an entrance. The officers then entered the inside Andrade's wife was found to be in the act of dumping some alleged liquor. The officers were able to save a few ounces of the liquid, however.

GOOD MEETING AT COHOCOTON

Corning Auto Club Signs Up 20 Members Making a Total of 50

Corning Auto Club visited Cohocoton last evening with its famous three ring circus but only 20 members were secured as a result of their efforts. It had been expected that at least 100 members would be signed up following the meeting and the result was somewhat disappointing. There were, however, over 20 members from that village who had signed up previously and it is expected that others will join before the first of June.
H. J. Wilcox, of Cohocoton, presided at the meeting at which a large crowd was present. There were upwards of 30 Corning members who attended.
President Jay Rutan spoke briefly on the work of the organization and he was followed by J. O. Sebring who pointed out the activity of the club in securing improved roads. The entertainment part of the program was in charge of Joseph L. Andrade and the usual vaudeville acts and numbers were given. A dance was held following the meeting.
During the afternoon, two representatives of the Club issued renewals for operators' licenses to the residents of that village and over 130 were issued.
