Your House and Home

COOKING HINTS

To use left-over sandwiches.

Make a batter as for pancakes.

Dip each sandwich into it and fry

it in a golden brown in fat. Serve hot.

If candle-holders are not pro-pable, use as handles as for the cake with marshmallows and stick

a candle in each one.

The secret of making confection-

ers' sugar paste like cooked

icing is always to add something hot to the sugar, thus taking away the raw taste. If it is batter, melt some, or use cream,

milk or water hot.

When serving eggs of toast to children or invalids, cut the toast

in cubes, leaving the slice in its original shape, before putting on the eggs. Thus the toast is very easily eaten.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

When a rubber hose for watering lawn sprinkles leaks in several places, punch more holes in it and plug up the one end. Turn on the water and leave your sprinkler to water the lawn.

In bad weather when clothes

are dried inside and you have a limited space, string two lines

about two and one-half feet apart

and hang clothes with one corner on one line and the other corner on the other line. This way the lines will accommodate many more clothes.

Paint every other step first;

when dry, paint the others. This affords a place to walk without touching wet paint.

NORWEGIAN POTATOES

One small onion, 1 pint raw,

diced potatoes, 4 tablespoons butter

or other fat, 1 cup raw, dried carrots, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Slice onion and saute in two tablespoons of the fat, add the carrots and potatoes, stir well and then put into a greased baking dish. Add salt and enough boiling water to come to the top of the vegetables. Cover and cook in a moderate oven (350 to 400 degrees F.) until the vegetables are tender. Drain off surplus water if any, add the rest of the fat and let brown uncovered. The cooking requires about 45 minutes. From

The Designer Magazine for June.

HANGING BASKETS

Every spring you would like a basket of bright-colored crimson creeper, or of the white-bellied

lily-of-the-valley plant, or a dozen others. Nine out of ten baskets

from the florist, but a basket

and apparatus arranged, or has fastly saturated a basket of Vincigras—or has watched the flowers wither and fade and faster upon a weeping lantern, than when they were in the hands of a friend who is tried and true. And, even on a large porch, it is a pity to the number of baskets

that may be used.

Whatever plants are used, pots,

boxes or baskets must have extra padding for good drainage, which can be insured by placing broken

pottery, moss, etc. in the bottom.

Plants should be a daily soaking and careful attention. Dead leaves and flowers should be cleared away. The soil should be frequently watered to keep it from baking,

and a certain lookout should be kept for the plants. From

BATH, June 4.—The Bath

Country Club is engaged in develop-

recently acquired at Lake Salubria,

a mile east of this village.

The buildings are being improved and altered to meet the needs of the club and it is expected that work will be completed

during the summer. The original

Answer: Because this type develops the greatest speed and power. All first place winners of the Indianapolis 500 mile race since 1912 have had Valve-in-Head engines. Buick pioneered the Valve-in-Head engine in 1904 and has used it ever since because it is more powerful, more economical and more dependable.

Pilot on Los Angeles Given
Thrill in Local Movie House
When He Sees Ship on Screen

A Naval lieutenant on duty for a few days. He entered local movie theaters for evening's entertainment. Nice soft seat, electric fan going. Makes himself comfortable to enjoy a good thrilling drama. All of a sudden he comes to attention because of a picture flashed on the screen of the big Zeppelin Los Angeles, making an experimental trip. Why is he so interested? Because he is a member of the crew of that big airship.

Later we found the man was Lieutenant B. N. Johnson of the United States Navy Reserve Flying Corps and one of the pilots of the Zeppelin Los Angeles who will return to duty today after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Danforth of East Erie avenue.

Soundings interesting. Dr. H. Mayhew can tell us something about the biggest zeppelin in the world.

HELPED THROUGH
CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during this Critical Time

Baltimore, Md.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the change of life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspaper the advertisement for the Vegetable Compound and I decided to try it. After taking a bottle I felt better and did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters who married very bad before they were married and was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. Gonsky, 1215 N. Gilman St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of all ages. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

Uncle Wiggily
By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright 1925 by The Leader Inc.
McClure Syndicate

Outside of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow grew a vine of honeysuckle. The leaves were a bright green and the flowers, when first they bloomed, were pure white. But as the flowers grew older they changed to a rusty brown in color, though this did not matter, since they only gave out a more delightful perfume.

One day, as Uncle Wiggily was about to hop forth to look for an adventure, as he did every morning, the rabbit gentleman heard a sad and sighing voice that seemed to come from the honeysuckle vine.

"Are any of my new little rabbits coming, hiding their eyes to play a trick on me?" asked the bunny gentleman. "Who is sighing so sadly?"

"I am," answered the vine, swaying in the wind and giving off a sweet smell.

"Why are you sad?" asked the bunny.

"Because I do not seem to be of any use in this world," answered the vine. "Here I must wait year after year, in the same place, only climbing a little higher, but doing nothing, seeing nothing, but the same bungalow and doing nothing—having no adventures, such as you have. Oh, I am so tired of it all!"

"And yet I should miss you if you no longer climbed up the side of my bungalow," said the rabbit gentleman softly. "I should miss you."

"That's what I say, also," chimed in a butterfly who alighted on a blossom near the humming bird and uncoiled his long, thin, pink tongue which he thrust deep into the long blossom. "I should miss you, a honeysuckle vine is so deep that only humming birds and butterflies, or creatures like that, can slip the sweet juice from them. Bees can not."

The humming bird and butterfly, after taking as much honey as they wanted, flew away. And just then the fuzzy Fox, who had been creeping up on Uncle Wiggily, tried to jump on the bunny gentleman's ears. But the wind blew a loop of the strong vine around the legs of the Fox, tripping him so that he fell, and before he could get up, Uncle Wiggily had jumped in his bungalow and locked the door. Then the Fox uncoiled himself from the vine and ran away just as the Fuzzy Dog marched past.

"Well, Honorable," laughed Uncle Wiggily, coming out again. "What do you say now? I've proved jumping ropes for my little rabbit girls, you gave honey to the humming bird, and butterfly, and you saved me from the Fox. I call that being of some use in the world."

"Yes, I guess it is," laughed the vine, and it was not long longer. For there is nothing better to cure sadness than to help someone. And if the bath room sponge doesn't get its feet wet when it has a swimming race with the cake of soap, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily and the toothache.

INSPECTOR OF
MEAT REPORTS

Falling Off in Inspections of Carcasses Indicated for Month of May

Dr. James S. Krowl, meat inspector of the city, whose duty it is to inspect all meat sold to meat markets in Corning is but one of the city's inspectors who only eight carcasses of beef were inspected during the month of May in preceding years as there were 80 carcasses of beef inspected during May 1924, and 48 during May 1923. So far this year preceding May there have been an average of from six to 15 carcasses inspected each month.

In May 1924, there were 238 calves inspected and sold in the city and 70 hogs. The most decided decrease is in beef carcasses and this is in all parts of the city.

The fact that the state inspection for tuberculosis in cattle keeps the better of the farmers' attention that they have not the quantity of beef to butcher locally. All cattle that are found to be tubercular are immediately shipped to the state inspectors and the state inspectors and these are not inspected by Dr. Krowl.

miss you very much. Honey-suckle, you might, but no one else would," sighed the vine. "I do want to be of use to you in the world. I think I shall tell myself wither away and die!"

"You must not talk that way," said the bunny. "Let the bunny uncoil, trying to think of some way to cheer up the honeysuckle. Just then Wiggily, one of the little rabbits, ran up to her new lady crying:

"Oh! I've lost my skipping rope and I can't jump and have fun. Will you please take me to the five and six-cent store. Daddicus was in there."

"The Fox tripped and fell."

and buy me a new skipping rope?"

Uncle Wiggily looked at the honeysuckle, and saw, dashed from it, many long strands which were just like skipping ropes.

"May I take a loop of you for Wiggily?" asked the bunny of the vine.

"Of course you may," said the honeysuckle with a sigh. "Take as many strands as you like. It matters not to me!"

So Uncle Wiggily snatched a number of vine ropes which he tossed to Wiggily, telling her to give them to her sister.

"Oh, now we'll never have to buy any more skipping ropes!" laughed the little rabbit girl, as she ran away. As hardly had she gone than a humming bird flew down to the vine and fluttered his wings to Uncle Wiggily.

"I am so glad this vine is here," said the bird. "It has the sweetest honey of all the flowers."

"That's what I say, also," chimed in a butterfly who alighted on a blossom near the humming bird and uncoiled his long, thin, pink tongue which he thrust deep into the long blossom. "I should miss you, a honeysuckle vine is so deep that only humming birds and butterflies, or creatures like that, can slip the sweet juice from them. Bees can not."

FIELD DAY IN SPITE OF HEAT

Gibson School Captures Prize
Football in Contest for District Teams

The schools of South Corning and Eaton combined in a field day, which took place Friday at Denison Park. The entire park was engaged for the affair and though the weather did not permit of the execution of more than half the meet, still crowds of people enjoyed the coolness of the park and its pleasure-making facilities.

Frederick C. Wilcox, Superintendent of schools for District Number One of Steuben County, was general promoter of the affair. Mr. Wilcox offered a prize of a pneumatic football to the school which should win the greatest number of points in the meet. This prize was hotly contested, (in more ways than one), but was eventually won by the Gibson schools, who carried 12 points to their opponents' 16. A ball game was also staged between the two teams, and to the winning team, the new baseball was awarded.

Mr. Wilcox wishes especially to thank those who assisted him. Ernest Craumer, Mrs. Carolyn Gardner, Principal E. H. Hovey, Principal John D. Spear, Judson Hulbert and A. V. Chamberlain.

The judges for the events were Ernest Craumer, physical director of Corning Free Academy; Judson Hulbert, physical director of Painted Post High School; and A. V. Chamberlain, Secretary of the County Y. M. C. A. Mr. Craumer refereed the baseball game.

The following are the events in which the boys of the various schools took place, accompanied by the places obtained by each school:

Standing broad jump, South Corning, 1st place and South Corning and Gibson tying for 2nd and 3rd places; chinning the bar, South Corning 2nd place and Gibson 1st and 2nd; each race, Gibson 1st place; football kick for distance, Gibson 1st and 2nd places; South Corning, third; high jump, South Corning, 1st place with each school trying for 2nd and 3rd places eight points.
