BOOTLEGGERS SHOOT EACH OTHER DURING GANGSTER WARFARE

Three of Fifteen Killed in Gunmen's Battle Found to Have Criminal Records All Over the State

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Three men were killed in what police believe was a battle between 15 bootleggers in the basement of a rooming house early today.

Two men were found dead in the hall and a third died later in a hospital from a bullet in his brain.

John Magliorini, said to be part owner of the house, was arrested, charged with suspicion of homicide in the shooting. Chaired were the shooting. Chaired were the shooting.

The men found dead were identified as Michael Orza of Yonkers, and Vincenzo Schiavone of Manhattan. The third man was known to police only as Willie.

When police arrived all of the gunmen had fled. Tattles had been turned up as men who were in the free-for-all fight that preceded the shooting. Chaired were the shooting.

The two men found dead in the hallway were shot in the back, apparently as they fled toward the street. The man who later died at a hospital was found lying on the floor of a rear kitchen, with an empty revolver nearby. Police began an investigation in the belief that the shooting was another chapter in the bootleg warfare that has taken several lives in recent weeks.

Shown by Finger Prints
Fingerprints of the three dead men showed that they all had criminal records.

The dead man known to the police as "Willie," later was identified as Samuel Di Stasio, address unknown, who was charged with the shooting.

Police records showed that Orza was arrested by state troopers for robbery last year, with disposition shown in the case. Schiavone had been arrested several times on different charges, without disposition of any charge.

Di Stasio was charged with a murder in 1922, was held in a material witness in a murder case in New York, N. Y., in 1924, the records showed. Last summer he was charged with grand larceny, but no disposition was made. In 1921 he was convicted in Chautauque, N. Y., of the murder of a woman, the penalty for keeping a disorderly house.

Former Governor Whitman and Miller, Congressman Miller, United States Senator Wagner, several state senators and others were said to be "pay as you go" support of the bootlegging war.

PRESIDENT IS AWARE OF REAL CAUSE OF EVIL

Lack of Parental Control and Incompetent Parentage Now Baring Fruits, He Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The present day need of the American youth is "more home control through parental action," President Coolidge declared today in addressing the 42nd International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of the United States and Canada.

Mr. Coolidge praised the work of the associations as "an effort in that direction" at a time when "there are too many indications that the 'race of juvenile delinquents' is breaking down."

Addressing the home as "the cornerstone of the nation," the president declared that control of the nation's future must be in the hands of the parents.

"Too many people," he continued, "are neglecting the real work of being their children, shifting the responsibility for their actions and turning over supervision of their discipline and conduct to juvenile courts in the present form."

"It is stated on high authority that a very large proportion of the juvenile delinquents of the Y. M. C. A., the greatest of the world's organizations, are 'wherever there are young men, there is a field' for their activities."

"It is increased truth that the hope of the future lies in the hands of the parents, and that, and serving this truth, the associations through 'contingent youth' and 'youth' for personal betterment and a wiser discharge of their duties."

BUDGET WILL

Army and Navy to be Taken as

(Copyright, 1925, by The Evening Leader)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The budget for the next fiscal year required to run the United States Government will be less than $1,769,000,000.

Final figures will not be available till the latter part of the month when President Coolidge prepares his message to Congress, but every day there are guesses now of various kinds.

Various departments have been asked to prepare estimates of their needs for the coming year.

Independent establishments of the government, such as some of the post offices, are also being asked to prepare estimates of their needs.

The budget bureau directed by General Lord is the scene of daily bustles and preparations. The bureau is now in the midst of preparing the budget for the coming year.

Instead of going before Congress, the budget will be transmitted by the secretary of the treasury to the president.

Only four persons are on the staff of the budget bureau and General Lord doesn't think the bureau needs more.

U. S. Weather Report

BINGHAMTON, Oct. 24.—For Binghamton and vicinity: Rain tonight and Sunday; colder Sunday.

For Eastern New York: Rain tonight and Sunday; colder Sunday.

Synopsis: The pressure is lowest today over Oklahoma and north of the Lake region and is highest over the Southwest.

Temperatures are near or slightly below the normal. The movement northeast of the disturbance now over the Southwest will cause rain in this section Saturday.

In this one year it might be considered wise to spend more money on ship construction and less on armament or personnel for the army, while in another case more money might be appropriated for military rather than naval aviation.

Incidentally in the matter of aviation a single sum—probably about ten million dollars—will be suggested for the construction of the new aircraft.

There is unquestionably a marked change in the method of estimating needed funds for the government under the budget system. Preliminary estimates were required last summer, and preliminary estimates have again been requested so that in the next few weeks the budget bureau will give its final approval to the amounts needed.

When it is considered that Congress accepted last year's budget of $1,726,000,000 and authorized just a few million dollars less than was asked, it is apparent that the effective piling process has become at the executive end of the government.

DON'T HOARD

SAY DEALERS

Coal Situation Not Acute But

Householders Advised to Use Substitutes

The coal situation in Corning has not become acute yet but has fair to reach that stage in a short time unless something is done to relieve the situation. According to reports from local coal dealers there is still some anthracite coal in the city for retail trade but the main danger lies in the fact that people are apt to become excited and fill their bins to overflowing with anthracite in an effort to hoard enough to see them through the winter and part of next and those who have to purchase it in ton or half ton lots are going to find it impossible to purchase it in a short time. One coal dealer stated today that he thought the situation would not reach an acute point if people did not buy up anthracite and hoard it as in his opinion there is enough coal in the local coal dealers' yards and the lines of the consumers to last until the middle of the year at least when anthracite is not available other substitutes will be on the market. At present the dealer stated that he thought the situation looming up before Corning, serious and stated that the lines of coal dealers' yards and the lines of the consumers should all learn to economize and start using them soon.

As he stated the use of substitutes will be the greatest when the consumer has had time to get used to it and accustom himself to the difference in the use of those substitutes.

What else whatever happens, there will be plenty of substitutes such as wood and soft coal and the use of these will be more convenient than hard coal.

Have Prepared for This Clash as for a Final Championship Game

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Football teams of the University of Chicago and Pennsylvania clash at Franklin Field today in what is regarded as one of the most important intercollegiate contests of the year. It is the first meeting of the two institutions in 24 years.

Chicago, winner among last year's claimants to Eastern championship honors and with its victory over Yale last Saturday, is unbeaten.

Northwestern was beaten, six to nothing, by Pennsylvania on the other side. The Quakers, on the other hand, have scored rather heavily against all its opponents, including Yale. The Elis have turned back the tangle of 16 to 13, 13 to 7 and 14 to 0 in their last three touchdowns and a placement so were restricted against the justly famous.
