Rules and regulations governing the aking industry already have been drawn up by the Food Administration and will o put into operation as soon as the executive order is out. They will provide a standardized loaf of probably two sizes and standardization of the bread ontent. A bread formula has been selected and bakers will be permitted to use no other.

The new war bread will contain a reduced amount of fats, as both the lard and milk content will be cut down considerably. It probably will be produced in twenty-ounce and ten-ounce loaves. No prices will be fixed outright, but the regulations will prescribe that only reaonable prices may be charged. Consumrs' committees have reported to the administration that in most places loaves of this size can be sold at 10 and 5 cents respectively.

Food Administration officials are give ing serious consideration to the situation | Recreated by the short wheat crop and it s believed likely that before many months bakers may be required to ade a certain amount of corn flour in bak ing bread.
