resistance of people of European blood to fatigue and disease and in their inclination to work. The exact temperature where this decline begins varies according to the humidity and movement of the air, but in practically all parts of the tropics the temperature is too high for the people to live in. These people are perfectly well in cooler climates so much like work as in cooler climates and they are least resistant to every kind of disease.

Installment Selling

A conspicuous place among the latter-day problems of business is the consideration of the installment annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is given the growing practice of installment selling. It will be considered from two viewpoints, merchandising and financing. As a question of merchandising an effort will be made to formulate the principles which govern the extension of this form of credit. It will also be discussed from the financing or banking group as one of the elements of the credit structure upon which business activity rests. This practice of extending payments over a period of time is relatively old but it is only in recent years that it has developed to such a point as to come under the scrutiny of business and finance as a problem of general importance. It is estimated that installment sales aggregate $5,000,000,000 annually in the United States but very little accurate information concerning the extent and effects of the practice is available.

Having No Name He Made One

James Smithson, whose fortune founded the Smithsonian Institution, died young, James was illegitimate son of an English Duke. His mother was of royal blood the blood of kings. But the "bar sinister" robbed him of all his natural rights of inheritance, they also stole the golden fleece. He started with nothing, not even a name.

"If England will not give me a name," said young James at the age of fifteen years, "then I will go out and make one for myself that will live long after the names of Northumberland and Percy are forgotten."

The determined youth graduated from Oxford University at the age of twenty-one and became an immediate member of the Royal Society. He became a world famous traveler and scientist, a member of the select bodies of the most scientific societies of Europe, wrote extensively for scientific publications, and died leaving a fortune of a half million dollars to the government of the United States of America for the purpose of disseminating an institution "for the knowledge throughout the world," so to be known as The Smithsonian Institution.

His dream has become a fact. The name Smithsonian is known throughout the globe—in places where the names of Northumberland and Percy have never been heard.

Some men acquire great names; some men have great names thrust upon them; the greatest are those who, starting with nothing make great names for themselves.

In the final values no man is more than he has BECOME. That which is given to us by circumstance, fortune, accident or chance can be taken away by the same means. That which we have BECOME is eternal.

The only claim some men have on greatness is the fact that they are the fathers of their children. They have a big chance because their fathers were great men.

It is better to begin with nothing and become something than to start with much and remain small. No good fortune can give us a great character. We have to make it.

Editorial Briefs

M. Zimovitz has been denounced as head of the League of Nations for making "heretical" speeches. Which goes to show what a perfect system of free speech they have in communist government.

Lord Chamberlain's speech on the European debt almost convinced us that we must have started the war ourselves in order "to make money out of Europe."

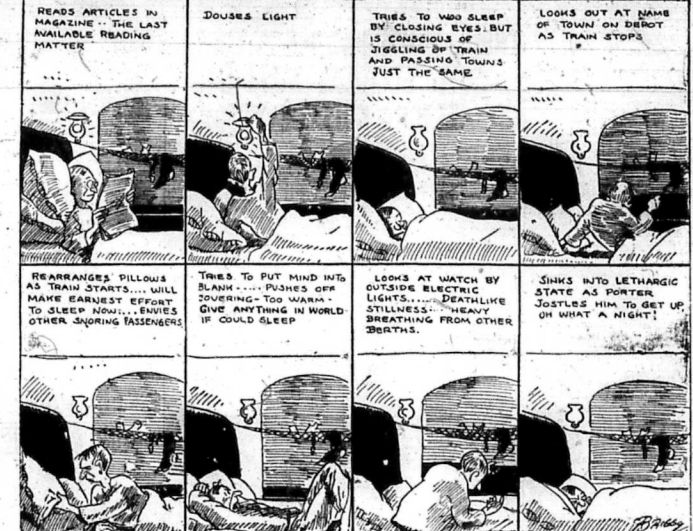

A new revenue bill has been introduced in the President's message to add a tax of twenty-five per cent to the hotel bills of tourists. This must be a sort of official "welcome charge."

There is one thing to be said for the radio static. It draws out the lot of unnecessary conversation made by the radio announcers.

A lot of European lecturers come over here and tell us what the climate is like in their native land, but we have yet to hear of an American lecturer giving good advice in Europe and getting paid for it at the same time.

TRUCK PLUNGES INTO POLE WHEN BRAKES LOOSEN

Without a ruiding hand and with the wheels on the ground, its course, the small truck owned by the Jewel Tea Company and kept for delivery purposes, was considerably damaged yesterday afternoon, when after starting a runaway flight down West Market from Fourth street it brought up with a distinct crash against a telephone pole at Third street. It is thought that the brake became loose while the truck was near Fourth street, allowing it to start down hill gathering impetus as it traveled. The truck was fast clip when the telephone pole halted it.

The front end of the truck was badly crushed and smashed and the front axle was broken.

Council to Take Action in Getting Express Deliveries in City

Considerable business of importance was transacted by the City Council and the City Engineer today. The routine business for the city was transacted last evening. A certain young man in Corning had an extraordinary amount of explaining to do as a result of the late bid placed in connection with the extension of Memorial Day. The plan of the city was to have a celebration of Memorial Day. Upon returning in the wee sma' hours, he was waiting for him on the porch of his home, to be a friend in urgent need.

Communications from the Corning Auto Club and the City Engineer were received requesting that the city should have powers to the police commission in regulating traffic and in enforcing same. These matters were referred to the committee on claims, ordinances and rules.

L. E. A. Defeats Hornell; Will Play Hammondsport Monday

ACADEMY BEATS HORNELL HIGH

Moore and Beck Pitch C. F. A. to a Easy Win 14 to 5 Victory

Yesterday afternoon the Corning Free Academy baseball team beat the Hornell High School, in the third scheduled, but first played game between these two schools, by the score of 14-5. The game was played at Denison Park.

Joe Moore started and batted for three innings, striking out four men, walking one and allowing four hits. Joe will be needed in the game against Hammondsport Monday.

Winnie Beck pitched for the Academy, and with fourteen runs in eight, Coach James thought it best to try Winnie Beck again.

He did, and with the result that Winnie struck out the first three men up in the fourth. After that he put four men on the bench through strikeouts, for a total of seven. He walked one and allowed one hit. Winnie is a great man to have in reserve when the time comes that a great string pitcher is not needed. Aside from his pitching, he hit two triples and one single out of five times at bat. Both times that he hit the triples, there were men on base. Once there were two and the other time one. Moore collected two singles out of three times at bat.

The Academy players collected a total of 13 hits during the game and Hornell got five. Of the thirteen for the Academy, Roszell and Beck each made three out of five times at bat. In both cases, the hits developed into runs, and each of them came over the home plate three. Roszell is becoming more and more valuable every time he plays. He has cut out his errors and in yesterday's game, which nearly every hit coming his way, he came out with only two errors. These were both because of unlucky bounces.

Today the Academy men are in Corning where they will play the Union-Edinboro team. In the first game of the season between the two teams, the Academy came out ahead with a 10-1 margin, with Moore pitching. This time, Coombs will win in this game, with Moore ready to go in if necessary.

HELEN WILLS HAS OPERATION

Taken Suddenly Ill with Appendicitis; Unable to Enter Big Tourneys

PARIS, June 5.—(AP)—The hopes of all America that Helen Wills, the California tennis star, would meet the world's tennis champion Suzanne Lenglen at the international hard courts tourney now being played in Paris, were dashed last night when Miss Wills was rushed to a hospital for an operation for appendicitis.

The operation was a complete success and attending physicians declared she was entirely free of danger. But Suzanne's title will not be secured this year, so far as an American challenger is concerned, for the doctors say it will be absolutely impossible for Helen to play at Wimbledon the last of June. In fact, she will probably not be permitted to wield a racket again until Fall.

Helen, of course, thinks otherwise. Even while she was on the way to the operating table, she told one of her friends that she would be "all right for Wimbledon."

"Maybe I will not be able to play in the Wimbledon Cup matches in England, but I am sure I will be ready for Wimbledon," she said.

The announcement that Helen's illness was diagnosed as appendicitis came as a great surprise, even though it had been known that she was out of condition and not feeling in the least well.

CORNING TRACK STARS ARE AT ITRACA TODAY

Today, Itraca is the scene of some very interesting races. The sectional finals are being run there, in the Cornell Athletic Union. Corning schools are proud of the fact that they are placing three entries which look favorable for places in the meet, they are in answer to that, but Wilbert Robinson is one reason, and five others are shown above.

The three above entered will represent section 10 of the State of New York. The first is a 100 yard race, the best wishes of bringing home 15 of the points of the tournament.

Copyright, 1926, by Metro-Tan New Paper Service

The Brooklyn Robins are the despair of critics, the delight of the fans, and the enigma of baseball men. What right has Uncle Robins' collection of aged veterans, misfit cast-offs, and minor leaguers to be one of the leaders in the National League? How does a job that lost a dozen straight exhibition games at the end of the training season even stay in the first division? Two hard questions in answer to that, but Wilbert Robinson is one reason, and five others are shown above.

Brooklyn, you know, boasts of four high-priced stars, all of whom receive a yearly salary of $15,000 or more. Probably any other major league club owner would be glad to pay nearly $62,000 annually to have Wheat, Vance, Fournier and Grimes play for him.

Brooklyn also has one of the oldest teams in either major league. Fournier is 33; Maranville, 35; Butler and Marriot, 30; Wheat, 38; Witty, 31; Cox and Felix, 29; O'Neill 28; DeBerry, 34; Vance and Grimes, 33; Barnes, 34; Petty, 30; and McGraw, 29. Of course, there are a few youngsters hanging around, like Jerry Standaert, who is 23, and Charley Hargreaves, who is 26; but, as you can see from the above figures, bald plates or gray hairs are the fashion among ball players from across the bridge.

On last April 12th, when the Robins' pitching staff went on, it was a month old and the big salaries. Next year he probably won't overlook such a pretty detail.

Thanks to the sensational pitching of southpaw Jess Petty, and the two tall right-handed Macs—McGraw and McWeeny—the Robins' pitching staff went on, in spite of Vance's inability to get going. Petty's feat of pitching a one-hit shut-out game against the Giants on opening day gave promise of the success that was to follow. So far this year Petty's speed and curves and control have been worth far more to his club than Vance's yet you'll not notice Jess's name included among the quartet who draw

Buffalo schools won the championship last year but it is said that they will have formidable rivals this year from the representatives of Long Island, West Chester Counties and the Schenectady district...

HAMMONDSPORT PIRATES PLAY SAVONA ON SUNDAY

HAMMONDSPORT, June 5.—The Hammondsport Pirate baseball team will face another strong opponent here Sunday when the fast Savona team with three victories to their credit invade Hammondsport with every intention of hanging the Pirate's scalp on their belt for their 4th consecutive win. "Mike" Brace, veteran Pirate hurler, has a sore arm and will without doubt be unable to assume the mound burden in tomorrow's game. However, the management has two capable moundsmen in good condition to start the game. They are "Tlie" Jenkins, veteran of many campaigns and "Ted" Jacobs, rookie pitcher. Field Manager Brace has not announced which one will start but believes that his selection will come through in the shape of Clay Benham who will do the receiving for Hammondsport.

The battery will be Ketchum on the mound and Kelley behind the plate.

CITY TO SEEK BETTER RATE

Will Cooperate with Supervisors in Effort to Equalize Assessments in County

Common Council at its meeting last evening took action to cooperate with the County Board of Supervisors to have all the property in the county classified for the purpose of later having an expert review each individual piece of property and assess it on an equal basis with other property of like value. This is to be done to get all property on a more nearly equal basis if possible. The assessors of the city were authorized to furnish the supervisors with the necessary information.

Assessor Robert F. Simmons who was present at the session spoke at length on the proposition and explained the cost of the work to the city would be something over $200. He pointed out the benefit this action would bring to the city in that the equalization rate was now too low and had caused Corning a loss of approximately $40,000 in the last six months. The higher the equalization rate results be explained and more state money would be received.

Members of Council entered into a lengthy discussion of the proposition during which Alderman Reynolds in opposing the proposition told of his experience as a member of the supervisory board. He said that the higher assessments for the up-state towns and cities was sought by the New York City counties but this was denied by Assessor Simmons. Alderman Cole brought out that the board of supervisors had power to assess a share of the cost against the city in any event. It was stated in the communication from the supervisors that after the preliminary work was completed by the local assessors that the county would pay the expense of the expert.

SARFIELD ON POLICE BOARD

Appointed by Mayor Road to Fill Place of T. J. Amey; Other Appointments Made

Fred A. Sarfield, well known Corning business man, was appointed as a member of the Police Commission by Mayor Harry A. Road at a meeting of Common Council last evening. Mr. Sarfield will succeed Thomas J. Amey whose resignation became effective on April 1. Former Mayor James P. Hallahan was originally appointed to fill this vacancy but had declined to accept because of business reasons.

Three other appointments were made by Mayor Road last evening. Dr. J. Rodgers and R. L. O'Brien were re-appointed to succeed themselves for terms of three years each on the Board of Health their terms having expired on May 31. W. A. Owen was reappointed to an examiner for the health board for a six year term. His term expired on May 31 also.

Mayor Road explained last evening that Mr. Hallahan's declining health had been followed by five days after his appointment but that nothing had been done about the matter during that time. He had been endeavoring to bring influence to bear to have him reconsider the appointment. Mr. Hallahan's 10 years' experience as an official of the city would make him available to the board. In consideration, Mayor Road pointed out and for that reason his services were particularly desired in connection with the present situation. Mr. Hallahan's resignation was brought out, however, that the city was fortunate in securing the service of a man with the business ability of Mr. Sarfield.

Mr. Sarfield came to Corning in September, 1909. Prior to that he was engaged in the undertaking business in Elmira with the old firm of J. C. Bennett & Sons, arriving in Corning he was located in the Gerbell-Howell Block for one year and then moved into the Heerman and Lawrence Block where he was located for six years until he purchased the Sarfield Homestead in 1917. His brother, William Sarfield, had joined him after he had been located in Corning for six months and together with Fred Sarfield is a member of Corning Rotary, Corning Chamber of Commerce, the local Council of the Knights of Columbus, Corning Golf Club, and Corning Athletic Club and the State Embalmers Association. For several years, Mr. Sarfield was a director of Corning Chamber of Commerce, and in 1919 he was elected president of the State Embalmers Association. Since the expiration of his term of office, he has been a member of the Board of Directors.

Besides being interested in the many local civic and fraternal organizations, Mr. Sarfield has also been active in bringing the fresh air children from New York City to Corning for a few weeks in the summer. While not actively engaged in politics, Mr. Sarfield has always taken an intelligent and forward interest in the civic affairs of the city. This interest and his lack of political entanglements has put him in a position singularly appropriate for this office for which his attainments and experience make him especially qualified.

CHITICK CASE TO BE ARGUED

Court of Appeals Will Review Settlement of Corning Estate Next Week

The final round in the will contest in the settlement of the estate of Thomas H. Chittick, which has been reviewed in the courts for the past three and one-half years will be heard in the Court of Appeals next week. It was today that the case is scheduled for argument on either Tuesday or Wednesday. The Appellate Division recently handed down an unanimous consent for the general appeal to the higher court.

The appeal is being made on the decision of Surrogate E. C. Smith of this county concerning the construction of the will of the Corning man, which decision in all its principal parts was unanimously sustained by the Appellate Division.

Under the terms of the will of Margaret, Margaret Chittick, nee of Elmira, formerly of Corning, was given $600 a year from the income of one-half of the estate, the remainder of the income of the $70,000 to be accrued to her death to be paid, together with the principal over $100 a year and the remainder of the accumulated income, together with the principal to be paid to their children at their death. The will was first offered for probate in December, 1922.

An appeal was made from this decision by the daughter, Margaret, who contended that the trusts which involved the entire estate were void. Should her contention be sustained, Thomas H. Chittick would have died intestate and his estate would have been divided among the three children. Attorney John C. Wheeler represented the three executors in the proceedings. Attorney J. Walter Frieschman of Buffalo, represented Margaret Stittich Johnson. Attorney H. A. Hendon was appointed special guardian for the infant children of the nephew, and Attorney Charles L. Crane of Addison, was appointed special guardian of the infant children of the nephew. Attorney G. B. Hubbard appeared for the executor of the will, G. Arthur Heerman.

—Gilbert Lindbloom of Maple street and Peter Boisch of Baker street spent yesterday evening with friends in Bath.

—Cecilia Johnson of Myrtle street has been called to Rochester by the illness of a relative.

Deaths-Funerals

Fillmore D. Frost

Fillmore D. Frost, 77, of 22 Elm street, died this morning at 6 o'clock at Corning Hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Frost spent most of his life near Chenango where he was a successful farmer. He retired and moved to Corning about seven years ago, residing here ever since.

Possessed of courage, determination and a strong sense of right and wrong, Mr. Frost was a highly respected resident of Corning and later of Corning. He was a member of the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, having transferred from the Chenango Methodist Episcopal Church. At Chenango he was a member of the Board of Trustees and also president of the Sunday School. The approach of old age prevented him from taking such an active part in the administration of the church in Corning but he was active in all the services of the church and loyal in his devotion.

Mr. Frost is survived by one daughter, Miss Eleanor Frost, a resident of the Sunday School, teacher at the Northside Grammar School. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home at 2130 o'clock and a funeral service will be held at the home of Dan J. Howell, pastor of the church, will officiate. brother, George W. White of Rome.

Mrs. Allen was ill only six days before her death, which was caused by septic poisoning. She was a loving mother and kind friend and beloved by both friends in this vicinity.

Interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

The funeral of Thomas F. Keenan, whose death, which occurred yesterday morning, will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Vincent de Paul's Church.

DAYLIGHT TIME TO CONTINUE

Common Council Refuses to Rescind New Ordinance; Vote was Eight to Five

Fifteen petitions said to have contained 1165 names of signers requesting that the ordinance recently adopted creating daylight saving time in this city, be rescinded, failed to sway members of Common Council last evening. The petitions were received and placed on file without any discussion whatever.

Alderman Cole of the Sixth Ward who presented the petition was the only one to defend the issue and he spoke but briefly. He explained that all of the signers were voters of the city and that all signatures had been made voluntarily. He volunteered the information that it would be no trouble to get as many signatures as he desired.

Alderman Beck immediately made the motion to file the petitions and Mayor Road asked for a roll call on the question. The vote was eight to five. McKintyre, Earls, Cole, Reynolds and Schall were opposed. During the voting Alderman Cole asked for an explanation of the vote meant by the signers of the petition. When it was explained to him that the petitioners were to be filed he withdrew his motion. It is an imposition on the voters.

ATTENDING FUNERAL

Among the out of town people who attended the funeral of Carson Carapella, which was held Tuesday morning from St. Mary's Church were Daniel, Nick and Tony Barallo of Allestown, Pa.; Daniel Zippeto of Rochester, Peter Lacro and Nick Lillo of Elmira.

The Powerful Six-72 Roadster $2195

The Remarkable Six-80 Sedan $1995

Two Great Sixes—both Peerless

BOTH are low in price—but exceptional in value. Both powerful. Both rugged. Both smooth running. Each lives up to every Peerless tradition of quality.

The Six-80's wheelbase is only 116 inches. That makes it wonderfully easy to handle—easy to turn on a city street—easy to park—an ideal car for a woman to drive.

Yet the body is long, low and roomy with deep, comfortable seats and wide windows for perfect vision.

This remarkable Six is the lowest priced car Peerless has ever built—from $1995 for the Sport Phaeton to $2195 for the Standard Sedan and $2795 for the Deluxe Sedan. It has hydraulic 4-wheel brakes and balloon tires. It is fleet, powerful—tremendously strong.

And in ruggedness and dependability this low-priced Peerless Six-80 is a smaller counterpart of the Powerful Six-72. Owners of the Six-72 will tell you that thousands of miles of uninterrupted service have given them fullest confidence in this car's dependability.

Sit at its wheel and you have at your command power far beyond any possible requirement. Smooth too, and dependable. You'll understand why the Six-72 has won the reputation of being "the most rugged Six that's built."

If you seek car values truly remarkable, ride in the Peerless whose price meets your pocketbook. Phone the Peerless dealer and tell him the one you want to try. He will send it to your door.
